

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. THEODOR DE BRY.

After much deliberation, I have determined to content myself with the description contained in Brunet's Manuel de Libraire, which has been translated for this work by Mr. CHARLES A. CUTTER, Librarian of the Boston Athenæum. The titles of the first Latin edition have been printed at length; the remainder are abbreviated as in Brunet.

BRY. Collectiones Peregrinationum in Indiam Orientalem et Indiam Occidentalem, xxv Partibus comprehensæ a Theodoro, Joan.-Theodoro de Bry, et a Matheo Merian publicatæ. Francofurti ad Mœnum. 1590-1634. 25 Parts, folio.

Such is the made-up title which is ordinarily given in catalogues to the twenty-five parts of the collection of voyages published by the de Bry or De Bry. The collection is divided into two series. The first, known as the "Great Voyages" (Grands Voyages), because the pages are a little over an inch taller and wider than in the second series, contains the voyages to the West Indies, and consists, in the Latin edition, of thirteen parts, in the German, of fourteen. The second series, the "Small Voyages" (Petits Voyages), contains the voyages to the East Indies, in twelve parts in Latin, and thirteen in German. [The Larger and The Lesser Travels would, perhaps, be more appropriate names, but the terms here adopted have become familiar as translations of the French designations. — Tæ.]

To Theodor or Theodoric de Bry, engraver, print-seller, and book-seller, at Frankfurt on the Main, the commencement of this collection is due. He conceived the plan after publishing, in 1590, the narration of travels in Virginia, written in English by Thomas Hariot, which had already appeared in London in 1588, in 4to. (See Hariot.) In order to get more profit from the plates which he had added to this relation, he had the text printed in four languages, — English, French, Latin, and German, and so had four different editions to offer to the public. The success of this volume decided the publisher to issue, the next year, a second (on the Floridas), which the title designates as Americæ Secunda Pars, but he printed the text of this and the ensuing volumes only in Latin and German. At the time of his death, in March, 1598, Theodor de Bry had already issued, from 1590 to 1596, six parts of the Great Voyages. After him, his widow and his two sons, Johann Theodor and Johann Israel, issued the 7th and 8th parts in 1599, the 9th in 1600; and, as the title of this last part bears the words Postrema Pars, it appears that they intended to stop there. Nevertheless, Johann Theodor, resuming the interrupted enterprise, printed at Oppenheim, in 1619 and 1620, a 10th and 11th part, and his heirs issued a 12th at Frankfort in 1624; finally, Math. Merian, one of his son-in-laws, published, in 1634, the 13th and last part, which is merely the translation of the 13th and 14th parts of the German text, already published by him in 1628 and 1630. The same year that Merian published this last part of the Latin text, he united under a collective title the thirteen parts of the Great Voyages, of which he possessed the stock, and published a new edition of the First Part, augmented with an Elenchus, or table of the different pieces contained in each of the thirteen parts.

The two brothers, Johann Theodor and Johann Israel de Bry, published the eight first parts of the Latin text of the Small Voyages in 1598, 1599, 1601, 1604, 1606, and 1607; they had published, a little before these dates, the eight first parts of the German text. Johann Theodor alone issued the 9th, 10th, and 11th parts of the German text in 1612, 1613, and 1618, and the same parts of the Latin text in 1612, 1613, and 1619. It is to his second son-in-law, William Fitzer, an Englishman by birth, that the 12th part is due. It was printed in 1628, as well as the 12th and 13th parts of the German text, which form a continuation to the German abridgement of the eleven first parts, which the same Fitzer had just published under the title of "Orientalische Indien." ...

Thus forty-four years passed between the publication of the first volume of the Great Voyages and that of the last volume of the Latin text of these relations. Now, during this long interval, the publishers of this great collection must have reprinted, even more than once, the greater part of the volumes, which had become successively out of print; but, before coming to entire reimpressions, they would naturally use the portions either of text or of plates which were on hand. It appears, in fact, that the plates were at first printed only for a part of the two texts of the first volumes, and that, when this first impression was exhausted, it became necessary to have a second, and at the same time, to print on the pages destined to receive the engravings both the numbers indicating their order, and the titles or explanations, which appear above and below those engravings, and that, finally, when the text was entirely exhausted, they reprinted it, at first with the old date, and afterwards with a new date. This explains how it is that one encounters, besides the editions reprinted as a whole, copies of the first edition offering so many various readings that one might think they belonged to different editions. It is certain that before the publication of the sixth volume, many of the first had been already reprinted, and that after that time the publishers could only deliver to the new purchasers of their collection copies formed of parts belonging to different editions. But we must not forget to say that there is only a single edition of the last parts of each of the two sections; and this is what makes them much more rare than the first parts. The reprints of these latter usually contain only plates more or less worn, and even those of these reprints of which the titles bear the address of Math. Merian not only have plates worn out, badly retouched, or re-engraved in counter-proof; but their very paper is detestable, the impression is very bad the text incorrect, and, what is worse, defective in many places; they are to be sought for, therefore, only for the sake of some additions which were made in them, as we shall take care to point out in our description at the proper time. This collection, it must be confessed, has not that importance for geographical science which it has acquired as a bibliographical curiosity, because it is uncritical; it contains very few relations which had not been already published separately; and the reprints or translations which are given of the others are worth infinitely less than the original texts. It is true that numerous plates, many of which are well enough engraved, were added to these texts; but they had been made, for the most part, after fanciful designs, adapted, some well, some ill, to the narrations of the travellers, and multiplied as a mere matter of speculation. The only advantage, then, which this great work has, is that of uniting in the same form a number of curious pieces which could not be procured separately without difficulty, and, moreover, were only to be had in different shapes. This has been enough to cause it to be sought for by opulent lovers of books, to secure it a distinguished place in nearly all the great libraries of Europe and America; and this has carried its price far above its real value. To form a complete copy of the Great and the Small Voyages, it is not enough to collect the first editions of each part: it is necessary, besides, to add to these the reprints which have any additions in the text, and any noteworthy differences in the plates. This was done, in France, as early as the commencement of the xviiith century by M. de Cisternay Du Fay, an enlightened amateur, whose name is still preserved in the memory of book-lovers. The catalogue of his books, compiled by Gabr. Martin, contains, at No. 2825, a copy of this collection, bound in 5 volumes, in blue morocco, which the epithet exemplar omni genere perfectum carried as high as 450 francs, a remarkable price at that time. After this, a lettered bibliophile, equally well known, the Abbé d'Orléans de Rothelin, having succeeded in forming a copy more complete than that of M. Du Fay, described it in a tract of 44 pages, small 4to, of which he had only a few copies printed (*see the title OBSERVATIONS), and although his observations are confined to giving the title of each part and some short notes, they served as a guide to collectors, until De Bure the younger had furnished, in his "Bibliographie instructive" ("Histoire," Vol. 1.), a more complete and, moreover, a much more detailed description of the same collection. It is true that the work of this bibliographer leaves much to be desired, both in the data necessary to determine the first impressions of the plates, and in the description of the parts reprinted, and, finally, because some errors have slipped in, and he has entirely omitted the edition with the German text, although several parts of that, in the Great Voyages, and especially in the Small Voyages, contain the first proofs of the plates. In spite of these omissions, his account has hitherto been the most convenient guide in collating the Latin text of this collection. Undoubtedly, the "Mémoire sur la collection des Grands et Petits Voyages," published by Camus, in 1802, is, in a scientific aspect, a work much superior to that of De Bure, as it gives good analyses of all the narrations published by De Bry, and indicates with care a large number of the originals; but it is less satisfactory in details concerning the subject-matter of the book, and is a little behind hand in the historical portion.

In preparing the different editions of our "Manuel," we have often thought of abridging the description given by De Bure, and completing it, but we have always shrunk from the difficulties of an enterprise requiring such minute care, and one that would have required of us much more time than we could have devoted to a single article. Since that, in our leisure moments, we have determined to fill this lamentable gap in our Dictionary. The better to do this we have consulted all the documents hitherto published on this subject, and after having compared them with the three copies in the Bibliothèque impériale, including the German text, and with that in the Bibliothèque Manuscrite, we have prepared a new description, less abundant than that of De Bure in minute details, but, we are inclined to believe, more complete and more exact than his, and containing, in addition, the necessary details in regard to the German texts, for which we have used the "Bibliographische Mittheilungen," published at Leipzig, in 1845, by T. O. Weigel. Nevertheless, we do not flatter ourselves that we have met with, or even foreseen, all the modifications that the fancy of collectors can introduce into the formation of a copy of this great collection, for, although the wisest confine themselves to the first editions and those of the reprints which contain some additions, other collectors, less easily satisfied, assemble all the editions which have been made of most of the parts, both in Latin and in German; others, finally, go beyond even these last, constantly seeking all the copies of the same edition that present to their eyes any differences, either in the engraved frontispieces, or in the preliminary matter, or, above all, in the plates, whether re-engraved or merely retouched; they do not forget even those which were pasted over others which had been wrongly placed; so that, perhaps, no two copies of this work are exactly alike. That which M. De Bure the elder had formed for himself, which was sold at Paris, in December, 1853, for 11,500 francs (plus 5 per cent. for expenses), contained duplicate plates, and, what is more remarkable, a second edition of the 10th part of the Small Voyages, dated 1633, which is wanting both in the two fine copies at the Bibliothèque impériale, and in that still more valuable one which Mr. Thomas Grenville bequeathed, with all his rich library, to the British Museum, and, finally, in the collection of Mr. J. Lenox, at New York, one of the most complete which exist, especially in the first editions of the German text. On the other hand, a well-known Russian book-lover, M. Serge de Sobolewski, honorary member of the Imperial Library at St. Petersburg, boasted, not long since, that his collection had reached 170 parts, all differing from one another in some points, and he flattered himself that he should find means to still further augment it. This learned collector has lately done us the honor to communicate to us, in regard to the different parts of the Latin text of the Great and the Small Voyages, some valuable notes, of which we have made use, to the improvement of our descriptions. As to the original editions of the narrations which the De Bry have reproduced, we shall say nothing here, having taken care to describe them in this "Manuel" under the names of their authors; moreover it is well known that amateurs admit into their collections only those original relations which are in folio.

* Under this heading, Brunet gives the title, Observations et détails sur la collection des grands et petits voyages (par l'abbé d'Orléans de Rothelin). 1742. Sm. 4to, pp. 14. A very small edition printed: 24 fr. d'Hangard; 12 fr. 50 c. Parison. This work, which that of Camus, on the same subject, has made almost useless, is reprinted with additions in Lenglet du Fresnoy's Méthode pour étudier la géographie, ed. 1768, t. 324-361.

Our readers will doubtless be glad to find here the opinion of M. Sobolewski on the cause and the effects of the successive modifications which the copies of this great collection have undergone. The learned bibliophile writes to us from Moscow: "It should be remarked, that soon after the publication of the first parts, and while the publication of the following parts was going on, the stock, and even the idea of the brothers de Bry, were parcelled out among their heirs, and then among the different publishers to whom the heirs sold their stock. Owing to these partitions, as the editions were in different hands, each proprietor was more or less obliged to reprint certain parts entirely, or to reprint leaves and sheets; in this latter case, they often could no longer use the old plates, which were in other hands, but employed fresh ones, which they caused to be engraved after those that they did not now possess. All these manipulations, together with the long time during which the publication of these two series lasted, gave, from the very commencement, importance to the original work, and especially to copies which were not only of the same edition, but where each part were free from the mixture of leaves printed at different times. Afterwards collectors and amateurs, in forming copies for their libraries, introduced more confusion into the bibliography of the Great and Small Voyages, by mixing together all that, at first sight, appeared to complete or much enrich their copies. All these causes united, confused the cataloguers; they saw more editions than there really were, and took for differences of edition the result of the printer's inadvertence or forgetfulness, and of the book-sellers necessities; and before long the increasing vanity of collectors, in place of separating the second editions from the first, and the altered reprint of Merian from the two original editions, mingled them all, in order that they might be able to announce that such and such a part of their collection contained so many leaves with variations!!! Or they increased the number of their volumes by adding the original editions of the voyages, which the publishers of the collection had copied, and the editions which had been copied after texts given in the collection. For my own part," adds M. Sobolewski, "I am opposed to this rage for giving variations, and enriching one's copy by mixture of editions. In my opinion," he continues, "a good copy of the Latin collection ought to contain the 25 parts either from the first or the second edition, or from the reprint. If it contains all three, which is to be preferred, each edition should form a part of the work by itself, and in no case should one bind with the plates of the first edition those of the second (and vice versa), in order to be able to speak of double or triple plates, as my friends the De Bure have too often done. If the printer has forgotten to print a plate on a place left blank, or if, by mistake, he has printed the wrong one,

I do not consider that a variation to be noted. If some leaves are wanting in any part, I put in white paper rather than the corresponding leaves taken from another edition, or from a reprint. You can see in the catalogue of Langlès that that Orientalist possessed the third part of the Great Voyages, composed of leaves of different editions, and this I have often found to be the case with that part."

Before beginning the detailed description of the collection with which we are now occupied, we must recommend to those persons who have to collate copies not to be content to ascertain the presence of the number of plates which we specify, but to take great care to satisfy themselves that these plates are the ones which belong to the part that they have under their eyes. This precaution is the more essential, because the plates of one of these parts have often been adapted to another, or plates which were wanting in one part, have been replaced by those which bore the same number in another part.

Description.

1. The title given above, engraved, and in an engraved border.
2. Dedictory epistle to Maximilian, elected king of Poland, at the top of which are engraved the arms of this prince, and lower down five lines, of which the first ends with the word "vestræ," 1 l.
3. Advertisement, "Benevolis coloniae ... promotoribus," with a summary in 4 lines, 1 l., p. 5.
4. Text, in Italics ("Prima pars"), pp. 7-34. The first line of the 3d page ends with the word "pluribus," and the last line of the text has only the figures 1588.
5. Printed title, commencing "Vivæ imagines," undated; it bears an ornament in a lozenge.
6. "Index omnium capitum;" this is the list of the plates.
7. An engraving representing Adam and Eve, with the words "Theodore de Bry fe" at the bottom of the plate.
8. Advertisement, "Benevolo lectori," a leaf printed on one side only; the open letter is a capital in type within an ornament engraved on wood.
9. Map of Virginia, followed by 22 plates on as many leaves, with explanations at the foot of each; the leaves are numbered from II to XXIII, on the obverse, at the top, and some of the plates in Arabic figures, at the bottom of the plates.
10. A leaf, with the announcement, "Pictorum ... icones;" eight lines underneath, and on the reverse the explanation of the first plate, in 17 lines.

11. Five plates (costume of the ancient Picta), numbered 1 to 5 below the plates; these, with the explanations, occupy 9 leaves.

12. Advertisement, "Interpres lectori," on one leaf, with a triangular tail-piece.

"Index præcipuarum rerum," 2 l.; on the reverse of the second, "Mendæ quæ typographicas operas fugerunt," with the same triangular ornament as the advertisement above.

A last leaf on which is repeated the colophon "Impressum ..." which is at the foot of the first frontispiece, with the date M. D. XC.

Of this first part there are two old editions very distinct from one another, the one the original, the other counterfeit; and there are three varieties of the original edition, presenting differences merely 1° in the title, 2° in pages 29 and 34 of the text, 3° in the explanation of plates III, IV, V, VI, VII, VIII, IX, X, XI, XII, XV, and XXII. All the rest is of the same impression, without any differences. Among the plates which afford variations, three are triplicates, the md, *viii*th, and xth. The others, as well as the pages 29 and 34, are only duplicates. The title presents no other difference than that of Theodori and Feirabendii in place of Theodor and Feirabendi. It is to be presumed that Theodori and Feirabendii denote the first impression, for the same orthography is employed on the titles of the French and English editions, and their dedication is dated several days before that of the Latin and German editions. As to the counterfeit of this part, there are two sorts of copies, one reproducing the pages 29 and 34, as well as the explanations of the plates of one of the varieties of the original edition, and the other representing as faithfully the second variety of the original. Until now no one has been able to decide with certainty to which of the varieties of the original edition and of the counterfeit the priority is to be assigned. But one can distinguish at first sight the plates of the first edition from those of the counterfeit, first, by the beauty of the proofs and the superiority of the paper, and more surely still by the height of the capitals employed in the printed title-pages and in the explanation of each plate, and by the Roman letters which indicate their order. In the first edition, these letters are about 9 millimètres* high (a little more than 4 lines); in the second, they are only about 7 millimètres† or 3 lines. But it is well to know that there was a second impression of the plates, in which, while preserving the capitals 9 millimètres high, a change was made in the typographic arrangement of the explanations of several plates, so that the two impressions differ in the last words of the first lines, as we shall show:—

Plate		1st impression	2d impression

Additional remarks: In the first impression of plate III, the initial P of the explanation is printed from a type placed in a passee-partout; in the second, this P is engraved on wood, together with its ornaments. There is the same difference in the letter S in the explanation of plate IV. Many bibliographers have asserted that in the first edition the field of the scutcheon of the dedicatory epistle should be without the cross-hatching which was added to the plate after the first impression; but we have not yet been able to verify the accuracy of this remark. The second edition, or counterfeit, bears the same title and the same date as the first, and the description of one will apply to the other, with, however, the following differences:—

* About .354 in.

† About .275 in.

The first of the five lines which are at the foot of the scutcheon of the dedicatory epistle ends with the syllable "Ma."

The summary preceding the advertisement "Benevoli" which follows this epistle, is in three lines in place of four.

The first line of the 34th page of the text ends with "pluribus qui," and the last line of the text contains the words "anni 1588."

The printed title ("Vivæ imagines") which precedes the plates has an ornament, of which the centre presents a monster's head.

The vignette placed at the end of the index, which is only about 53 millimètres (23 lines) square in the first edition, is higher and much broader in the second.

In the title which precedes the costumes of the Picts, there are, at the bottom of the page, only 7 lines in place of 8, and on the reverse, 16 in place of 17.

The errata, which, in the first edition, are on the reverse of the second leaf of the second index, have been retained in a part of the copies of the second, but with a tail-piece, which is not of a triangular form. In other copies these errata have disappeared, and the reverse of the leaf remains blank. The leaf which, in the first edition, contains the colophon and the date, has not been reproduced in the second.

We have seen several copies of this counterfeit edition (with the errata), in which the place of the frontispiece where are engraved the words "Francofurti ... in officina Sigismundi Feirabendii" has remained blank, as in the edition of 1634, of which we have still to speak.

To better characterize the difference of the two editions already described, in regard to the 22 plates of Virginia, we will give the number of lines in the explanations of each plate, in both editions.

These plates, beginning with the 3d, occupy signatures A-D.

After the 23d is a blank leaf, which completes sheet D.

The exactitude of the table above has been verified by examination of many copies; but the details which Santander has given on p. 35 of the 2nd volume of his catalogue differ from ours in what concerns the second edition, where, according to him, there are only 6 lines to plate v, 7 to pl. vi, 7 to p. ix, 6 to pl. x, 7 to pl. xi, but 14 to pl. xii, and 10 only to pl. xv.

We have mentioned, above, the rather remarkable engraving which represents Adam and Eve in Paradise, below which the engraver has traced his name in this manner

"Theodore de Bry fe." "If there were," says Camus, on p. 38 of his memoir, "'Jo.' before 'Theodore,' it would indicate the second edition." This remark is not entirely exact; for, although, as the author of the memoir rightly says, these two letters were added to the plate, it could not have been done, we think, before the death of Theodore de Bry, in 1597. This is why the plate not only is without the "Jo." in a large number of copies of the second edition of the first part, and even of those which no longer have the name of Feyrabend; but is still to be found (before the retouch) in the first edition of the third part, which was published in 1592; and the plate had been very much worn when the two letters were added. Only in copies which left the store-house of the publisher after 1597 can it be found with the syllable "Jo."

There is in the library at Breau a copy of this first part which has this peculiarity, — the frontispiece is engraved as usual, but either because the plate was printed with the legend covered, or this legend had been erased, they were able to print in the empty space the words, "Pars prima Americae, 1600." This might lead to the wholly false supposition that there was an edition different from any that are known.

[Some important corrections of the account given above will be found in a letter of M. Sobolewski which will be given after the description of the German edition of de Bry. — Ta.]

The last edition of this first part was issued by Math. Merian, under the following collective title: —

BRY. Historiæ Americæ sive Novi Orbis, comprehendens in XIII sectionibus exactissimam descriptionem vastissimarum et multis abhinc sæculis incognitarum terrarum, quæ nunc passim Indiæ occidentalis nomine vulgo usurpantur: cum elegantissimis tabulis et figuris æri incisæ nec non Elenche sectionum et indice capitum ac rerum præcipuarum. Francofurti, sumptibus Matthæi Merian, anno 1634.

At the commencement of this volume is a sheet of ten unnumbered leaves, containing the title given above, printed in the midst of an engraving where are represented thirteen medallions, the voyages collected in the thirteen parts of this collection; a second printed title, fuller than the first, a general preface ("in opus americanum præfatio"), and, finally, an "Elenchus," or table of the different pieces contained in each part. This "Elenchus" directly refers only to the edition which Merian was selling in 1634, and does not indicate the pages where one could find, in each edition, the heads referred to. The general preface, however, which indicates the order in which the pieces collected in the Great Voyages ought to be read, is an essential portion of the work. It is then necessary to unite, as has been ordinarily done, these 10 leaves to the first editions of the first part; this is what gives a value to this edition of 1634, which has become rare. The difficulty of procuring it led an English bookseller, some time ago, to have the introduction, which is the only useful part, reprinted. This reprint has only 9 leaves; but another has been made at Paris, which, though it also does not reproduce the engraved frontispiece, has 10 leaves like the original edition, because the preface, instead of commencing on the reverse of the title-page, commences on the obverse of the second leaf.

After the 10 preliminary leaves, the edition of 1634 has the engraved title of this part (without the address), and then the dedicatory epistle. Both the advertisement "Benevolis" and the privilege have been omitted. The pages of the text are numbered 5-34. The plates, as well as their explanations, are printed on both sides of the leaves. The index of these plates is on the obverse of the leaf, the reverse being blank. This last edition is, moreover, in every respect, very inferior to the two first, and the same can be said of all the parts which Merian has printed.

Exact title and description of the first part of the Great Voyages in the French translation.

Title engraved within an engraved frontispiece, as in the Latin edition.

Dedicatory epistle to "Gvillaume conte (sic) palatin du rhin," signed "Theodor de Bry, natif de la cité de Liège," 1 l., with the scutcheon of the Count, above the text, pp. 3 and 4.

"Aux adventuriere | bienvveillans et favorisans | l'entreprise de la colonie et—demevre de Virginia, 1 l., sig. a 2., pp. 5, 6. Text, pp. 7-33, the reverse of the last leaf being blank.

The plate of Adam and Eve, a very fine proof, 1 l.

"Au lecteur," 1 l., the reverse blank.

The map of Virginia, followed by plates II-XXIII, with their explanations in French.

"Avvns povvtraicts des Pictes ancien | nement habitans vne partie de la grand Bretagne" (a printed title), with the explanation of the first plate on the reverse. The five plates follow with the explanation vis-à-vis (9 l.)

Tables of the principal matters, 2 l., sig. Fd. On the reverse of the second is a list of errata longer than in the Latin edition.

Finally, on a last leaf, this imprint:—

"A Francfort | de l'imprimerie lan. | Wechel, aux despens de Theodore | de Bry. | M. D. XC."

This edition is tolerably well printed, on a sized paper. The plates are better than those which were in the various copies of the first Latin edition, which we have been able to examine; it is, moreover, of very great rarity, and is worth not less than 1000 to 1200 fr. On this subject I have an anecdote from M. Sobolewski. During a stay in Paris, some years ago, this distinguished bibliophile was offered, for 100 fr., a copy of the French "Virginie," described above, without a title; but, as he already had three complete copies, he did not think he ought to take it. Now, what came of his refusal? Some months later this same copy was sold for 1000 fr., after a title had been added to it, from which Simonin had cut the Latin inscription, substituting blank paper, on which a skillful penman had written, for 30 fr., after a copy borrowed from M. Sobolewski himself, a facsimile of the French inscription.

[The title above is taken from a copy belonging to Mr. James Lenox, of New York, who has kindly furnished the following collation:—

The English title is engraved on the frontispiece, and the Latin imprint below. I have never heard of, or seen, any other than a Latin imprint. In some copies the English title is on a slip, and pasted over the Latin.

The first and second lines are in large Roman type—no capitals, except "A;" all the rest in italics, except "Sir Walter Raleigh," "Maiestie," "By," "Walter," and "Cum Gratia," etc., and the whole imprint; these are in small, and the imprint in larger capitals.

Title, 1 leaf, verso, blank. Dedication to Sir Walter, with his arms, pp. 3, 4, in italics. "To the Adventvrers," etc., pp. 5, 6. First Part, Roman, pp. 7–12. Second Part, 13–21. Third and Last Part, pp. 22–30. Conclusion, 31–33, 1 blank page. Title, "The true pictvres and fashions of the People of Virginia," 1 leaf, verso, blank; table of the pictures, including the map, 2 pages. Plate of Adam and Eve, recto blank, 1 leaf. "To the gentle Reader," 1 page, verso, blank. Plates and map, 1–xxii, the map, 1. Nos. xiii–xvii, xviii, xix, xx, and xxii, are on double leaves. Sometimes the description is on the verso of the first, and the plate on the recto of the second leaf; or the plate occupies part of the verso of the first, and the whole of the recto of the second leaf, and the description a portion of the verso of the first leaf. In all the others, the plates occupy a part of the recto of one leaf, with the description below, and the verso of the leaf blank. The map is on a double leaf, without any description. "Some Picture, | of the Pictes ...," 1 page—verso, description of the first plate; second leaf, picture No. 1, recto—verso, blank; third leaf, description No. 11—recto, blank; fourth leaf; picture No. 11—verso, blank; fifth leaf, recto, blank—verso, description of plate No. 111;

sixth leaf, plate No. III, recto — verso, blank; seventh leaf, recto, blank — verso, description of plate III; eighth leaf, picture No. III — verso, blank; ninth leaf, recto, blank — verso, description No. V; tenth leaf, picture No. V — verso, blank; a table of the principal things, etc., 3 pages; fourth page, faults escaped; colophon on recto of next leaf: "At Frankfort, | Imprinted by Ihon We|chel, at Theodore de Bry, owne | coast and chardges" | The first, second, and fifth lines in large capitals; the third and fourth lines in small Roman type.

Collation — a, including title-page, in 4s, b in 6s, c in 4s, d in 10s, to plate n, inclusive; A in 6s, B in 8s, C in 8s, D in 5s, E in 8s, F in 6s, including a blank leaf.]

This English text is so rare, that only five or six copies are known. That which is described in the "Biblioth. Grenvil," 1. 185-186, had been bought by Lord Oxford, at Frankfort, about 1710, for £100. Another brought the same price at the Nassau sale. The copies which were sold for only £47 5s., at the Thomson sale, in 1813, and 31 fr. at Haerott's, were not perfectly complete.

The volume is in three parts. The first ("The Report") consists of 33 pages, including the title; the second ("The true pictures and fashions of the People of Virginia") is in 23 plates, each having its description, with a title, a table, a notice to the reader, and the plate of Adam and Eve; the third part ("Some picture of the Pictes ..."), in 5 plates, with their descriptions, which, with the title, occupy 12 leaves, and are followed by another leaf, bearing the colophon.

The title above, engraved and within an engraved frontispiece.

Privilege of the Emperor, 1 l., the reverse blank.

Text, commencing by this summary, "Gallorum in Floridam ... altera navigatio, duce Laudonniero ...," 30 pp. (the first page has only 25 printed lines). This narration, written by Le Moyne de Morgues, had never been published.

Map of Florida, which is often placed before the text.

Engraved frontispiece, and in the middle a title, also engraved ("Indorum Floridam provinciam inhabitantium Eicones"), below the address "Frankfurti ad Mœnum ...," and the same date as in the first frontispiece, above.

Forty-two plates, on as many leaves (sig. A2-H), with explanations at the foot of each; the leaves are numbered from 1 to XLII, at the top of the pages, and the engravings, in Arabic figures at the bottom of the plates.

"Libellus sive epistola supplicatoria ... ad Carolum IX ...," 3 l., of which one is numbered H2; the ornament placed at the head of the first page should represent a winged man.

"De quarto Gallorum in Floridam navigatione," 5 l., including the index. On the reverse of the 5th l., "Parergon de authore et occasione hujus historię." The fifth paragraph of this last piece (which is a "monitum" on the "Parergon") should have 5 lines; at the bottom of the page is the catch-word, "mendæ."

"Mendæ quædam," 1 l., the reverse blank.

"Parergon continens ...," 4 l. On the reverse of the last, "Francofurti ad Mœnum, apud Joannem Wechelum impensis Theodori de Bry. M. D. xci."

In some copies the same inscription is found printed on a separate leaf, which is placed after the 42 plates. Above the date is a vignette engraved on wood, — a mask with ornaments.

Of this part there has been a first original edition, a second original edition, — in which the title of the engravings bears the date M. D. CIX, — and an edition reprinted under the first date of 1591.

The first impression of the 42 plates is recognised by the number of the lines, and by the words which end some of the lines, as will be seen in the table below.

N. B. The first line which follows the number of each plate indicates the first edition, designated by the letter a; and the second line the reprints, designated by the letter b.

SECOND EDITION.

As there is a second edition of the third part, printed in 1605, it is to be presumed that there must have appeared a reprint of the second part, between the edition of 1591 and that of 1609, but we only know this latter, which has the same plate for frontispiece, the same title and the same date, 1591, as the first, but differ in some other points. For example, in the dedication there are only 5 lines below the scutcheon, in place of 6; the notice "Benevoli lectori" ordinarily retains the plate representing Noah's Ark (yet in some copies this vignette has been replaced by the scutcheon of the dedicatory epistle). The ornaments of the initial, below the vignette, represent a man pruning a vine,—they are different in the first edition;—in the second the privilege is generally printed on the reverse of a leaf, of which the obverse has the engraving of the seven scutcheons accompanied by the six virtues, which plate had already served for the first edition of the third part. The copy described in Langlès' catalogue, however, had this privilege printed on the obverse of a leaf, the reverse of which was wholly blank, as in the first edition.

After this privilege, there is in the second edition a piece entitled, "Historia luctuosæ expeditionis Gallorum in ... Florida," on 4 l., not numbered, on the reverse of the last being a notice, "De occasione et autore hujus historię;" but this edition, which has been reproduced in the reprint of this part, is the same thing, except a few phrases, as the "Parergon" and the "Monitum," of which we have already spoken, which have been retained in this edition of 1609.

The vignette placed at the head of the first page of "Libellus ... ad Carolum IX.," represents a man's head, below which two angels, one on each side, sound trumpets. In the first edition it is a winged man. There is the same difference in the vignettes in the part entitled, "De quarta ... Gallorum navigatione." In the "Parergon de autore," which is on the reverse of the 5th leaf of this same part, the fifth paragraph has only 4 lines in place of 5. The catch-word of this leaf is "Parer." instead of "Mendæ;" there are no errata, and the reverse of the 4th leaf of the "Parergon continens ..." is blank.

The engraved title, dated 1591, which in the first edition comes before the 42 plates, in the second is replaced by a printed title, with this date, "Anno Christi M. D. CIX." (It is printed 1619 in the Langlès catalogue.)

In the second edition the frontispiece has the same engraved cartouch which served for the other two editions, but the title printed in the cartouch is different. It begins thus, "Historię Americanę | secunda pars | continens Navigationes | Gallorum in Floridam" It retains the imprint, "Francofurti ad Mœnum ... M. D. XCI." After this title comes 3 preliminary leaves, as above, and the text commences at page 3, with these words, "Historię | luctuosę Expe | ditionis" It ends at page 52, which is followed by the title of the "Indorum ... Eicones," and the 42 plates of which we have already spoken.

We have seen two different copies of this edition — that of the Bibliothèque impériale, which conforms exactly to the present description, and that of the Bibliothèque Mazarine, which, although resembling the other in the title and the 52 pages of text, wants the 3 preliminary leaves, and has the plates printed two by two on each leaf, so that these 42 plates and the explanations only occupy 21 leaves. The reverse of the printed title presents the explanation of the two first plates, and the reverse of plates 41 and 42 the index of all these plates. This last impression is probably that which Math. Merian used for the collection of the Great Voyages which he issued, under a collective title, in 1634.

Title engraved, in an engraved frontispiece.

Dedicatory epistle to William Count Palatine of the Rhine, 1 l. (5 lines below the scutcheon; there are 6 in the edition of 1605.)

Two leaves. On the obverse of the first is an engraved plate, representing seven scutcheons; in the first impression these are without the figures of the seven virtues, which were added to the plate, before the second impression, to fill up the empty space. On the reverse is the notice, "Theod. de Bry lectori," which is continued on the obverse of the second leaf, whose reverse contains the imperial privilege. Map, entitled, "Americæ pars magis cognita." This is sometimes placed after p. 138.

Dedicatory epistle of J. Stadius, 1 l., with a vignette in wood representing a man having wings on his shoulders.

Preface of Johannes Dryander (relating to the same narration), 3 l.; on the reverse of the third the "argumentum totius narrationis." The vignette, at the top of the first page, is narrow and short, not filling the whole width of the page.

Text of Stadius, pp. 134, having on the first an engraving representing a sea-port, with houses at the right of the spectator.

On p. 3 of this narration, the summary of Chapter II, "De ijs quæ acciderunt circa primam naviga | tionem," is in two lines; it is in one line in the edition of 1605, and in that of 1630 it is thus expressed, "De iis quæ acciderunt circa navigationis initium."

At page 7 of the same relation, the summary of the chapter (Chap. III), "De modo obsidendi et obsessæ oppu | gnandi," is also in two lines; it is in only one in the edition of 1605; and in that of 1630 is thus expressed, "Lusitani obsessi ab Indis oppugnantur acriter."

There are in this part thirty-four engravings, not including the first, printed on the same pages as the text, and in this number several are repeated.

After page 134 is a second engraved frontispiece, bearing this title, also engraved, "Navigatio in Brasiliam Americæ ... a Joanne Lerio Burgundo ... Venales reperiuntur in officina Sigismundi Fierabendii," without date.

4 leaves of preliminary matter, pp. 137-143. The Greek verses on p. 137 are in large characters, called "Saint Augustin" [pica]; the catch-word "Joan," at the foot of page 140, is in upright letters. Page 143 should have 27 lines (it has only 17 in the edition of 1605, and 16 in that of 1630). Page 144 ordinarily contains the engraving of Adam and Eve, with the mark, "Theodore de Bry fecit," as in the first part. In some copies this page has been left blank.

Text of the relation of Lerry, p. 145 to 284, with 10 plates printed in the text. In the plate on p. 151 the vessel is on the right, and has the standard with three fleurs-de-lis; in the plate on p. 248, the man who is carried is on the right of the spectator. In the edition of 1630 these two plates and several others have been re-engraved and reversed.

Two letters ("Exemplar duarum litterarum") of Nic. Barré on the expedition of the Chevalier de Villegagnon, which occupy pp. 285 to 295, including a printed frontispiece, "typis Joannis Wecheli, M. D. XCII;" on p. 296 begins an Index, which continues on thirteen unnumbered pages. On the reverse of the last is the inscription, "Impressum Francofurti ... apud Joannem Wechelium, impensis Theodori de Bry. M.D.XCII."

This third part has had two original editions, and perhaps also two altered editions. There are even two kinds of copies of the edition of 1592. The first agree with the description above; the others differ merely in the plate with seven scutcheons, where the spaces at first left blank have been filled by the figures of the six virtues, and in the two engraved frontispieces, where, after the word "officina," "Sigismundi Feyrabendii" has been substituted for "Theodori de Bry." This change, which appears in the edition of 1605, must have been made about 1597; for, after the publication of the sixteenth part of the Great Voyages in German, with this date, the name of Feyrabend does not appear in the other volumes of the collection.

SECOND EDITION.

The edition of 1605 preserves the first engraved frontispiece of that of 1592, but with the name of J. de Bry substituted for that of Feyrabend. It presents some other differences: on the first page of the dedicatory epistle are six printed lines; the frontispiece which precedes the narration of Jean de Lery, and takes the place of pp. 135 and 136, is printed from type, and bears the name of Theod. de Bry; the ten Greek verses, commencing at p. 137 are in small characters; p. 143 has only 17 lines; p. 144 is blank, or if it has the print of Adam and Eve, the plate is in the second state, that is to say, with "Jo." before "Theodori."

The printed frontispiece ("Exemplar duarum litterarum"), p. 285, which precedes the two letters of Barré, has the words, "Typis Matthæi Beckeri M.DC.V.;" and the colophon, which is on the reverse of the last leaf of the index, is "Impressum Francofurti ad Mœnum apud Matthiam Beckerum. M. DC. V."

THIRD EDITION (altered edition).

In the edition dated 1630, the title printed in the middle of the engraved frontispiece differs from that of the two other editions. Here is an extract:—

"Historiæ Antipodum, sive Novi Orbis qui vulgo Americæ et Indiæ occidentalis nomine usurpatur, pars tertia ... Omnia ab infânis mendis repurgata et in concinniorum ordinem redacta studio Jo. Ludovici Gottsofridi ... Francofurti, sumptibus Matthæi Meriani, Anno M. DC. XXX."

Notwithstanding the corrections and improvements of which this title speaks, the edition is in every respect far inferior to the two preceding. It wants the preface of J. Dryander; the printed title on p. 135 has neither ornament nor address; the text ends on p. 294; there is no colophon, and the long index which is in the first editions has not been reprinted; the plate on the first page of the text of Stadius, which was very much worn in the edition of 1605, has been re-engraved for this, but reversed, and with differences in the personages; other plates are re-engraved and reversed. Camus, p. 56, remarks that at p. 86 of Merian's edition is a plate representing the Indians eating fish, which is not in the other editions; we have found it not at the page named, but at p. 120, and that in three copies; in one of these copies the plate at p. 248 was wanting, and in the others it was reversed.

Another remark is to be made on this same p. 248. In five copies of the first edition of this part, of which two were those of Rothelin and Camus de Limare, with the vignette of the seven scutcheons, printed before the six virtues were added, we have seen, on the first line of the said page, above the plate, this clause, "tum excavata fœsa non oblonga;" but in the edition of 1605, in consequence of resetting the type, the same clause begins at the end of the last line, below the plate, in this manner, "tumum exca-", with the end of the word ("vata") as a catch-word, and repeated on the first line of p. 249. Finally, in the edition of 1630, the first word of this clause, "Tumin," with the n broken, is at the end of the last line of p. 148. Camus, then, is wrong in saying, on p. 57 of his Mémoire, that in the first edition the last line of p. 248 has "tumum," and that this mistake was corrected in the second edition. We fear that in correcting this error the editor of the "Bibliotheca Grenvilliana" has committed another, in saying that the first edition has really "tum in" in the last line of this page; at least we know of no copy which justifies his assertion.

The Bibliothèque Mazarine has two copies dated 1630; one conforms to the description above; the other appears to be the edition of 1605, in which Merian had inserted the title-page of his own. In a "Catalogue of Rare Books," printed at New York in 1854, mention is made of a copy of the edition of 1630 in which, on p. 86, the title of Chap. XLVI is printed in 2 lines, and the text in 13 lines. Below this text ought to be the plate cited by Camus. At the foot of p. 272 and at the commencement of p. 273 are 6 lines of text printed twice. M. Sobolewski has pointed out to us that this edition of 1630 is often composed of a mixture either of sheets taken from the original editions or of sheets imitated from the two original editions, which has made him suspect that perhaps each of the original editions has had its imitation. According to him, this third part is the most difficult study of any. There are sheets of six different impressions, among which two are such exact facsimiles of one another that their difference can only be perceived with the magnifying glass.

In many copies of the different editions of this third part, there have been added at the end 28 plates, which were published, under the title of "Brevis summa ...," in 1617, in connection with the second edition of the sixth part, although they belonged to the third.

Title engraved, in an engraved frontispiece (with the emblem and device of Th. de Bry, — several marigolds, with these words, "Nul sans soucy").

On a separate leaf, the plate of the seven scutcheons with the six virtues, and on the reverse the imperial privilege.

On another leaf, "Theod. de Bry benevolo lectori." On the first page a plate representing a ship and marine gods; below, 22 lines of text, the first of which ends with the word "Indiæ."

On a third leaf, some Latin and some French verses in honor of Th. de Bry. On the first page a plate, bearing this engraved title, "Americæ relectio;" at the bottom of this page the catch-word, "artes."

146 pages, containing a preface, "Christianis et piis lectoribus;" on p. 7 a note, "De ambiguo Indiæ nomine;" then, pp. 8-10, some verses, the argument of the book; lastly, the text, pp. 11-145 (the additions on the margin are in round characters); on the reverse of p. 146 the colophon, "Impressum Francofurti ad Mœnum, typis Johannis Feyrabend, impensis Theodori de Bry. Anno M D. LXXXIII."

A blank leaf; a second print of the engraved frontispiece, which is at the beginning of the xvth part; a map of occidental America; 24 engraved plates on leaves numbered 1 to xxxiii.

It appears that there were two impressions of these plates for the first edition of this part. In the first, the plates are not numbered; in the second, they have Arabic numbers, beginning with the third plate; but the explanations printed at the bottom of these pages are the same as in the first impression, while they differ in those of the second edition. On a part of the prints of the frontispiece, the words which follow the date have been corrected thus: "Ad Invictis. Rudolphus [sic] Romæ Imperator." (Cat. Santander.)

SECOND EDITION.

The second edition is a repetition of the first, with the same frontispiece and the same date; it can be recognized by the following marks: 1° in the notice "Benevolo lectori," the first line below the plate ends with the first syllable of the word "Indiæ;" the word is complete in the first edition; 2° at the foot of the first page of the third leaf ("Americæ relectio") there is not the catch-word "artes" which is in the first edition; 3° the greater part of the additions in the margin of the text of Benzoni (wrongly called Bezoni) are in italics; 4° the reverse of p. 145 has neither colophon nor date.

The 24 plates are numbered with Arabic figures, and the explanations added at the foot of the plates differ in some points from those of the first edition. For example:—

Plate xiv. The number is xiiii in the 1st, and xiv in the 2d edition (also xiiii in the edition of 1644).

Plate xv. The first line ends with "Carolus V." (only "Carolus" in the 2d edition).

Plate xvii. The 2d line ends with "soluens O-" (only "soluens" in the 2d edition).

Plate xviii. In the printed title at the top of the page is "alij" ("alii" in the 2d edition).

Plate xix. The 3d line ends with "spem fu-" (only "spem" in the 2d edition).

Plate xx. The 2d line ends with "duces" ("du-" in the 2d edition).

Plate xxii. The 2d line of the title has "objicit" ("obicit" in the 2d edition).

Plate xxiii. The 1st line of the title has "sibiipsis" ("sibi ipsis" in the 2d edition).

Plate xxiv. The last line but one has "mutato" ("mutato con-" in the 2d edition).

We will add, in regard to plate ii ("Pisces in mari alati"), that in the 3d edition the ship is entirely different; it has on one of its masts the banner with three fleurs-de-lis, and the engraving is heavily shaded.

Third Edition.

BRY. Historia antipodum sive novi orbis liber quartus
Francofurti in officina Matthæi Meriani. MDC. XXXIV (1644).

This third edition contains a title printed in an engraved frontispiece, 1 l.; preface, "Christianis et piis lectoribus," 2 l. (pp. 3-6); "argumentum," p. 7; text, pp. 8-74. The engravings are printed in the text.

The 2d plate has the flag with the three fleurs-de-lis, but it is very much worn.

[Brunet adds,] The word "historia," which we have restored above, is wanting in the fourth line of the title in the first impressions of the plate. [The title above, where the word appears in full, is apparently copied from an impression different from either of those described by Brunet.]

Title engraved, in an engraved frontispiece.

2 leaves for the preface and the argument. At the commencement of the preface is the portrait of Columbus, and below the portrait 11 lines. The title of the argument ("secundi libri summa") is in upright letters; the reverse is blank.

Map of New Spain, dated 1595.

Text ("Novæ orbis liber secundus"), the pages numbered 5 to 92; but as the numbers 79-88 are omitted, there are really only 82 pages.

A frontispiece like the one at the commencement of this part; then 22 plates, their order marked by Roman letters at the top of the page. The explanation of these plates presents the same small Roman characters as the notes at the end of the chapters.

We know only these two editions of the fifth part of the Great Voyages, and we are ignorant whether Math. Merian issued a third. The frontispiece of his which has the figure v in many collections formed by him after the death of his father-in-law, really belongs to the 7th part, as Camus has remarked. According to M. Sobolewski there existed an edition of this fifth part, "tertiusquam (or tersusquam) ante hac edita, 1625," of which he had only seen one copy, that of Camus de Limare. Now, that amateur's copy, which the Bibliothèque impériale possesses is, according to Camus (p. 81), and in our opinion, a seventh part with the number v (see the account of this seventh part below).

The second or counterfeit edition, with the same date as the first, is recognizable:—

1° By the engraved title, in which is added, between the 4th line and the 5th, the word "Hia," an abbreviation of Historia, which had been omitted on the plate before the second impression. (Yet these three letters are also in a part of the copies of the first edition of the text.)

2° By the text of the first page of the preface, which has 13 lines in place of 11. (But I have seen a copy, appearing to be of the second edition, where this page had only 11 lines, and where the leaf of the argument was without the ornament, which in the first edition is at the foot of the page.)

3° By the body of the work, which, being printed in smaller characters than in the first edition, ends at p. 72.

4° By the notes at the end of the chapters, which are in Italics.

5° By the 22 plates, as the leaves are numbered in Arabic figures instead of Roman, and the explanations are in the same characters as the 72 pages of text.

We are able to assert that the author of the "Bibliographie instructive," and after him Camus, have erroneously given as the distinctive mark of the first edition of this 5th part what must apply to the second. So the first impressions of the plates are those which are ordinarily found after the text in 92 (82) pages; and it is by a mistake of the binder that in one of the copies in the Bibliothèque Mazarine the plates numbered in Roman figures accompany the text in 72 pages.

SIXTH PART.

Title engraved, in an engraved frontispiece. (The copy described in the catalogue of J. J. De Bure had this frontispiece double, with a difference in the title.) "Libri tertii summa et argumentum," 1 l. This summary is printed in 2 lines.

Map of America, forming a half-planisphere. It is also placed at p. 98.

Plan of Cusco, on the same page. Text, pp. 5-108. There are 22 chapters, with notes, as far as p. 77. On p. 78 commences the description of the Canaries, in 2 chapters, numbered 1 and 2.

Frontispiece in all respects like that which is at the head of this sixth part. There are copies, on the title of which a little engraved plate has been pasted with these words, "Sequuntur icones artificiosæ ordine historiam precedentem illustrantes ...," then 28 plates (numbered at the top of the pages from 1 to 28), with the explanations below printed, some in Italic, some in Roman characters. These last belong to the Nos. 7, 10-19, 21, 22, 27, and 28.

SECOND EDITION.

The summary on the 1st leaf ("Tertii libri summa ...") in three lines.

Text, pp. 5-78. It is in smaller characters than in the edition in 108 pp., and a large part of the notes which were at the end of most of the 22 chapters of the first edition have been suppressed. The description of the Canaries which, in the preceding edition forms two chapters numbered 1 and 2, occupies in this the chapters 23 and 24, pp. 56-59.

The frontispiece which precedes the plates is a printed title, of which we give the beginning and end:—

BRY. Brevis summa earum rerum quæ in tertia Americæ parte continentur ... Oppeinheimii [so in Brunet], ex officina typographica Hieronymi Galleri, sumtibus Joannis Theodori de Bry filii civis et bibliopolæ Oppeinheimensis. M. DC. XVII.

The explanations of the 28 plates are all printed in Italics, of a smaller font than in the first edition, from which they differ also in the number of the lines; thus, in the 1st edition, for plate 1 there are 12 lines (in the 2d, 8); pl. II, 18 lines (in the 2d 13); pl. III and IV, each 13 lines (in the 2d, 10); pl. V, 14 lines (10 in the 2d); pl. VI, 14 (10 in the 2d); and for all the others similar differences. I have seen a copy of this 2d edition, which contained the plates of the 1st.

In many copies of the 2d edition the 28 plates and their title are placed in the third part, to which they belong.

SEVENTH PART.

Title printed, in an engraved frontispiece.

"Præfatio ad lectorem" and "lectori benevolo," 2 l., pp. 3-6.

Text printed in long lines, pp. 7-62, finishing with these words, "finis itineris Ulrici Fabri" (a name Latinized from the German Ulrich Schmidel — see this name in the Manuel). Between the brief title and the first lines of this text is an engraving representing a gate with houses on the right. This plate had been already used.

The plates, three in number, which belong to the text of this part are found with those of the eighth part, at the end of its text; they form the first three numbers.

The second edition has also a printed title within the same engraved frontispiece, but the date is M. DC. XXV. It has not the 2 preliminary leaves; the text printed in 2 columns is paged from 3 to 35; the reverse of the last is blank. The 3 plates are printed in the text on pp. 7, 14, and 20. On p. 1 is a vignette representing a sea-port, but in reverse, having the houses on the left of the reader. In a part of the copies of this second edition, the title has "pars V." and the two 11 which follow this number are traced by the hand; in others, the number VII is plainly printed. This frontispiece retains the words "editio tertia," which, as we have said, relate to the 5th part, for which the plate had already served.

Text in 2 parts, — the first, pp. 3–78, the second, pp. 1–99 (reverse blank), the whole in long lines. In the greater part of the copies is a small map of the world at the foot of p. 78 of the first part, and another small map at p. 3 of the second part, under the last line of Raleigh's preface.

A printed title, of which we give the beginning and end:—

BRY. Tabulæ et imagines et septimam et octavam Americæ partem ... pertinentes ... impressæ Francofurti ad Mœnum, per Mattheum Becker, sumptibus dictorum Theodorici de Bry viduæ et filiorum: Anno M. D. XCIX.

18 plates, with explanations printed at the foot of the pages. On the last, "Finis Tabularum."

The second or altered edition has a title, at the foot of which is a small square map and the colophon, "Francofurti, typis Erasmi Kempfferi, Anno M. DC. XXV."

The text (except the prefaces and the pices justificatives) is in 2 columns in a single series, paged from 3 to 127. At the foot of this last page is the catch-word "Histo." Page 58, ordinarily blank, is sometimes filled by the engraving of Adam and Eve. There should be, pp. 129–160, a piece entitled, "Historiæ Antipodum sive Novi Orbis partis nonæ liber tertius" This piece (the relation of an expedition made in 1599), illustrated by some engravings, was not in the first edition; but, though it is placed here in the 8th part, it really belongs to the 9th. The nineteen plates are printed with the text, which, with the three of the seventh part, implies four more plates than in the first edition; but, adds Camus, after having made this remark, some are repeated several times; the same plate is to be found on pp. 57 and 72; I have not perceived any that was not in De Bry's collection. The map of Guiana, which ought to be placed immediately after the text, is wanting in some copies. J. J. De Bure's copy had at pp. 57 and 58 two illustrations which are not usually found.

In a "Catalogue of Curious Books," printed at New York in 1854, mention is made of a second edition of this eighth part, dated M. D. XCIX. It has no preface. The text, "Descriptio primi itineris" commences on the reverse of the frontispiece, and is printed in characters smaller than those of the first edition; so that pp. 2, 3, and 4 contain the same matter as pp. 3-6 of the first. The catch-word ("statio") of p. 4 is the same as that of p. 6 (1st edition), and the reader can pass from the 4th to the 7th page without any break. This must be an edition made for Merian after 1625.

4 l., namely, the title printed in an engraved frontispiece; dedicatory epistle to Christian II, Duke of Saxony (the scutcheon on 1 l., and the epistle on another l.); notice to the reader ("Lectori benevolo").

The body of the volume is divided into 3 parts, namely:—

1° Text of the 7 books, "De Novi Orbis natura," pp. 1-362, and one blank leaf.

2° "Relatio historica ... navigationis Sebalti de Weert Francofurti, excudebat Matthæus Beckerus, m. dc. ii."; a printed title bearing the vignette which represents five ships; a map of the Strait of Magellan; text, pp. 3-56. Then 25 engravings on as many leaves (sign. aij to ff. 5, and numbered 1-xxiv), with their explanations at the foot of the pages. These plates are preceded by a printed title ("Idæa vera et genuina præcipuarum historiarum ... gentis Indiæ ..."), dated m. dc. ii.

3° "Additamentum nonæ partis Americæ, hoc est descriptio ... navigationis quam Olevier a Noort ... confecit Francofurti, excudebat Matthæus Beckerus, m. dc. ii." Printed title, with the portrait of Olivier de Noort in the middle. Text, pp. 3-100; 14 plates on as many leaves (1 to xiv), with the explanations at the foot of the pages; they are preceded by a printed title ("Vera et genuina, sed brevis tamen designatio insularum ..."), with the same names of city and printer, and the same date as above.

The words "Postrema pars," which are in the first title of this ninth part, seem to indicate that the heirs of Theodore de Bry intended to end their collection there; and, in fact, it was not till seventeen years later, in 1619, that Johann Theodor de Bry continued it by issuing the tenth part. He had published the German text of this same part the preceding year. "This original edition of the ninth part," M. Sobolewski writes to us, "has had two leaves reprinted, namely, the second of the Additamentum, and the second of the Narratio; probably," adds our correspondent, "these impressions were made for two different stocks, and merely distinguish the sets coming from these stocks."

The altered edition of the ninth part has a title considerably different from the first; it begins and ends thus:—

BRY. Americæ|pars decima:|Qua continentur,|I. Duæ Navigationes Dn. Americi Vesputii, sub auspiciis Castellani Regis, hactenus confuse nec suo loco edita: nunc vero sublatis innumeris mendis interpretum ablespia admissis, decenter et ordine accurata; studio et opera Jo. Ludovici Gottofridi Ambergensis. Francofurti, apud Matthæum Merianum. Anno M. DC. XXXIII.

This edition is divided into three parts. The first contains the voyage of Sebalt de Weert, the second that of Olivier de Noort, the third the voyage made by the Dutch fleet in 1599, a narrative which is not in the edition of 1602, described above. It is here accompanied by 5 plates printed in the text.

Merian has not reprinted in this volume the seven books "De natura Nova Orbis" of Jos. Acosta, because there was an extract from it in the "Paralipomena Americæ," in the 12th part of the Great Voyages, printed in 1624; he has also not given the plates of these seven books; in this way he has reduced the text of this part to 160 pages, of which part are in two columns. There is between pp. 38 and 41 a second printed title, "Historia Antipodum ... liber secundus Francofurti, typis Wolfgangi Hoffmanni, anno 1633." The plates which are printed in the text have in part double numbers, in Arabic figures, which indicate the order of the plates and that of the leaves to which they belong. The latter references are not always correct. The edition of 1633 sold separately 140 fr. (Eyrîs), but it is worth much less.

Printed title, in the middle of which is an engraved vignette representing three vessels with a man and woman standing. In a part of the copies there are more vessels, and the man and woman are sitting.

Map of the Philippine Islands, which belongs to the 11th part.

Text, pp. 3-72. Camus has remarked that at p. 21 of the copy which he had under his eyes, the initial H was printed upside down. In one which I have seen it is properly placed.

"Icones sive exactæ ... delineationes ...", with the same date as the printed title above, 12 plates on as many leaves (numbered I-XII, with the explanation. At the foot of the last is, "Finis decimæ partis Americæ."

ELEVENTH PART.

BRY. Americæ | pars vndecima: | Seu | descriptio admirandi | itineris a Guilielmo Schouten | Hollando peracti: qua ratione in meridio- | nali plaga freti Magellanici novum hactenusque incognitum in mare Australe transitum pate- | fecerit: Quas item terras, insulas, gentes, resque mirabiles in dicto Au- | strali Oceano obvias habuerit. | Omnia elegantibus mappis, atque iconibus in æs incisis jam primùm illustrata, | Operâ & Sumptibus | Johanni Theodori de Bry Argentinensis. | Oppenheimii | Typis Hieronymi Galleri. | Anno M. DC. XIX. |

Printed frontispiece. In the middle a map of the world in two hemispheres, below which are the busts of Schouten and Magellan, crowned by Fame; behind them, on the right, the medallions of Candish and Spilberg; on the left those of Drake and Olivier de Noort.

"Proœmium," 1 l., numbered 3 and 4.

Map of New Guinea and map of the South Sea.

Text, pp. 5-49, the reverse of the last blank.

Printed frontispiece, with the words, "Sequuntur veræ vivæque rerum ... imagines ...", and the names of the city and the printer, and the date above.

Nine plates, numbered 1-ix, with signatures and catch-words, and the names of the places engraved on many of the plates. The small map of the Strait of Magellan, which, according to Guil. Fr. De Bure, should be placed here, must be a duplicate, as it had been already used in the 9th part, and reappears in the 13th.

BRY. Americæ | tomi vndecimi | appendix. | Sev | admirandæ navigationis a Geor- | gio a Spilbergen, classis Belgicæ cvm | potestate Præfecti, per fretum Magellanicum & Mare meridionale, ab Anno 1614. vsq; ad Annum 1618. inclusiue | peractæ, descriptio. | Qva | Novi per fretvm Magellanicvm et Mare meridionale in Indiam Orientalem transitvs, incognitarvm- | que hactenus terrarum & gentium vt & omnium quæ terra marique acciderunt & visa sunt | memorabilium, explicatio continetur, additis pulcherrimis & nun- | quam antea visis figuris in æs incisis, | Auctore | M. Gothardo Arthvsio Dantiscano. | Francofvrti, | Typis Ioannis Hoferi, Sumptibus Ioannis- | Theodori de Bry. | Anno | M. DC. XX. |

(Printed title, having one of the vignettes which are on the frontispiece of the 10th part.)

Preface, 1 l., paged 3 and 4.

Text, pp. 5-34, and 1 blank leaf.

"Sequuntur veræ vivæque imagines incognitarum hactenus regionum ...". (A printed title, with the same date as above.)

Twenty engravings representing views of places and of combats. The plates have no number, and only a few bear the names of the places; but the leaves are numbered from 1 to xx. At the foot of the last is "Finis."

All the copies of this appendix which we have seen, as well as those which passed under the eyes of Camus, had the paper soiled by the spreading of the bad ink which the printer used. But there are some which are not soiled.

Neither this part nor the preceding have been reprinted; but, for some unknown reason, two different vignettes have been used for the title-pages.

TWELFTH PART.

BRY. Novi Orbis pars dvodecima. | Sive | descriptio | Indiæ occidentalis, | Auctore | Antonio de Herrera, | Supremo Castellæ & Indiarum
authoritate Philippi | III. Hispaniarum Regis Historiographo. | Accesserunt
et aliorum In- | diæ Occidentalis Descriptiones, vti & nauiga-tionum omnium per Fretum Magel- | lanicum succincta narratio. | Quibus
cohærent | Paralipomena Americæ, in qvi- | bus res plurimæ memoria
& obseruatione dignissima, imprimis regio- | num natura, aeris constitutio, temperamenta elementorum, in- | colarum ingenia quæ in magno opere historico aut omstsuntur, aut leuiter attinguntur, incunda non | minus quam erudita descriptione | perscrutantur. | *Francofurti, | Sumptibus
Hæredum Iohann. Theodori de Bry. | Anno Salutis M. DC. XXIV.* |

Printed title, in an engraved frontispiece. Another printed frontispiece, conceived in the same terms, but without the engraved border.

Dedicatory epistle of J. Th. de Bry, dated 1 Aug. 1623; Herrera's preface, and table of contents, 1 l.

Text, l. 1-154, the reverse of the last blank. In the text of Herrera, ending at l. 44, fourteen maps are inserted at different places where the text shows that they ought to be. These fourteen maps, numbered 1-14, are sometimes placed together at the end of the text. The "Paralipomena Americæ," which commence on the reverse of l. 73, are merely, as we have already said, an extract from Acosta's history, inserted at the beginning of the ninth part of the Great Voyages; and this explains why 14 of the 19 plates which are here printed in the text had been already employed in the said ninth part, as Camus shows, pp. 160, 161 of his Mémoire, where he also says that in the greater part of the copies seen by him, at pl. xii on l. 130, a new engraving, representing a triumphal entry, had been pasted on another engraving, which probably was not in its right place.

THIRTEENTH PART.

BRY. Demica Tertia Pars | Historiæ | Americanæ, | quæ con-
tinet exactam | et accuratam de- | scriptionem | 1. Novæ Angliæ,

A printed title in an engraved frontispiece.

Notice to the reader, 1 l.

Text divided into 15 sections, pp. 1-149. This is the translation of the pieces which form the 13th and 14th parts of the German text printed in 1628 and 1630. The engravings which belong to the 13th Latin part are printed in the text, except nine maps or plates, namely:—

1° Large map of America ("America nouiter delineata"); 2° Strait of Magellan (a small map, which is also in the 9th part); 3° "Description de las Indias occidentales" (this is the first of those which accompany the description of Herrera); 4° Map of Virginia, before p. 12; 5° Map of Brasil, before p. 36; 6° Map of Guiana, at p. 46; 7° Map of Bahia de Todos os Santos, and of the city of San Salvador; 8° Map of the island of Cuba and of the combat fought in sight of that island, with the portraits of Admiral Long and General Hayn, at p. 136; 9° A large plate representing two views of Olinda, at p. 145. These plates are sometimes placed together before the text, and in a different order from that in which we give them.

The pages on which these engravings ought to be found are pp. 4, 5, 11, 18, 25, 28, 87, 102 (view of Terra del Fuego), 108 (numbered 118), 112, 113, 116, 118 (two views), 125, 127, 132, 137 (flying-fishes). In the text, p. 57 is wrongly numbered, and after p. 60 the numbering recommences 51, 52 (numbered 25), 53, etc.

This thirteenth part did not appear till ten years after the twelfth, and forty-four years after the original edition of the first; it may, then, well be believed that very few of the first purchasers of the commencement of this collection would have taken pains to complete it, and many of them may have died before they could do so. It is for this reason that this last part of the Great Voyages is wanting in a number of copies, and that to procure it separately it is necessary to take it, as well as the "Elenchus" of 1634, from copies of the same collection sold by Matthew Merian after this date. It must have been the same with the twelfth and last part of the Small Voyages, which was not published till thirty years after the first, and nine years after the eleventh. These last parts were only printed once, and we think that a much smaller number of copies was printed than of the others.

B.—SMALL VOYAGES.

[O M I T T E D.]

COPIES OF THE COLLECTION OF THE GREAT AND SMALL VOYAGES
WHICH HAVE BEEN SOLD AT AUCTION SINCE 1709.

1. In 6 vols., dated 1624, "Bibliotheca BIGOT.," No. 1946.
2. 5 vols., blue mor., dated 1598 and 1634, DU FAY, No. 2825, 450 fr. The Elenchus of 1634, the double parts of the 2d ed., and those plates which have variations had been added.
3. 25 pts., 1598, etc., 6 vols., COLBERT, No. 2963, 145 fr.
4. 25 pts., 1598-1634, in 6 vols., blue mor., Count d'HOYM, No. 3224, 400 fr.
5. 25 pts. in 6 vols., 1598, etc., LONGUEVAUX, No. 1098.
6. 25 pts., 1598-1634, in 7 vols., red and citron mor., and also the 9 first pts. of the Great Voyages, 1590-1602, 1st ed., blue mor., ROTHELIN, No. 2820, 750 fr. This was the most complete copy that had yet appeared. It was afterwards in the library of Paris de Meyzieux.
7. 25 pts., 1598-1634, in 6 vols., gr. mor., with many parts doubled, DE BOZE, No. 1513, priced 800 fr.
8. 1590-1634, bound by Derome père, in 12 vols., red mor., a copy said to be more complete than that of Rothelin, GIRARDOT DE PRÉFOND, No. 1060, 985 fr.
9. 25 pts., in 7 vols., 1598-1624, Huet's copy. (Catalogue des JÉSUITES DE LA MAISON PROFESSE, No. 5354.) The copy passed into the Bibliothèque du roi, and served to form another.
10. Bd. in 16 vols., blue mor., the copy described in the "Bibliogr. instructive" and in the GAIGNAT catalogue, No. 2602-2623, 1600 fr.
11. Bd. in 10 vols., blue mor., LAURAGUAI, No. 578, sold at first for 1151 fr., and resold as incomplete for 604 fr.
12. 12 vols., blue mor., 1st ed., RANDON DE BOISSET, No. 1102, 1002 fr.
13. 1st edition in 9 vols., blue mor., with 2 vols. of continuations, in the same binding, first sale of MEL. DE SAINT-CERAN (1780), No. 1395, 1529 fr. 19 sous; and second catalogue (1791), No. 1929, 12 vols., blue mor., complete copy, 1512 fr.
14. The Rothelin copy again, but with 2 vols. composed of duplicate plates added, and some continuations, GOUTARD, Nos. 1040-1042, 2551 fr. This same copy was bought by M. Paris the younger, who added the different continuations described in the "Bibliotheca PARHINA" (Lond. 1790), No. 486, when the copy containing these 60 pts., bd. in 24 vols., reached £210. This same copy, in the same condition as in the GOUTARD catalogue, was offered for sale, in 1855, in Paris, by Techener. It was bought for 12,000 fr. by Mr. Lenox, of New-York. It was described in the "Bulletin du Bibliophile," 1855, pp. 38-41.
15. 1st and 2d ed., without the 13th part of the Great Voyages, 16 vols., blue mor., including 2 vols. of continuations, as in the DE GAIGNAT copy, DUKE LA VAL-LÈRE, Nos. 4508-4510, 1950 fr.
16. 21 vols., violet mor., including the duplicates, the French part, and the continuations, CAMUS DE LIMARE, No. 1380, 4802 fr. Bought for Louis XVI, and to-day in the Bibliothèque impériale.
17. 25 pts., in 6 vols., 1590-1634, SOUBRE, No. 5905 bis, 602 fr.
18. 13 vols., blue mor., with duplicates and continuations, but without the "Elenchus" of 1634, CREVIERNA, No. 5769, no price.
19. 29 vols., red mor., with the Small Voyages in German, announced as the most complete which it is possible to have, LOMENIE DE BRIENNE, in 1792, No. 389, 6300

fr. This copy, which is described in the catalogue of the Count DE BOUTOUVELIN, ed. 1805, must have perished when the library of the Count was burnt.

20. 12 vols. complete, with the duplicates and the continuations. Well described in the catalogue of LA SERNA SANTANDER, III. Nos. 3690-3691. Bought for 4000 fr., by Renouard, and afterwards sold by him in London.

21. The Latin edition, with duplicates and continuations, 15 vols., blue mor., with the German text, Oppenheim, 1620, in 9 vols., blue mor., the two sets, CAILLARD, Nos. 1840, 1841, 4350 fr.

22. A copy of the 2d ed., without the 13th part of the Great Voyages and the 12th of the Small Voyages, but with the "Appendix Regnum Congo," LANGLEL, No. 1951, 650 fr.

23. 16 vols., blue mor., 1st and 2d edition, with duplicates and continuations, "Librairie DE BURE," 1834, No. 2810, offered for 4000 fr.

24. 13 vols., green mor., 1st ed., with the first part, duplicates and some continuations, same catalogue, 2d part, No. 2637, sold for 1501 fr.

25. 39 vols., half mor., bl., 1st, 2d, and 3d ed., with duplicate plates and the continuations, sale of J. J. DE BURE, 11,500 fr., and 5 per cent. added. Bought by M. Dutuit, of Rouen.

26. 8 vols., wanting some plates, "Biblioth. WILLETT," in 1813, £126. This is the copy that served as a foundation for that of M. Grenville.

27. 7 vols., blue mor., including the duplicate parts, and a number of plates inserted. Bought at London, by the Duke of Devonshire, for £546.

28. 11 vols., mor., catalogue of the library at Fonthill (M. BECKFORD), 200 guineas.

29. 13 vols., blue mor. The copy in the library of Lord SPENCER, at Althorp.

30. An incomplete copy, "Biblioth. HEBER," VII, No. 1918, £30 19s. 6d.

31. A copy, in 30 vols., was in the HANROTT library; it included the German text.

32. Another in 11 vols., blue mor., STUART sale, in 1855. It had the "Elenchus," the "Appendix de Congo," and the six first parts of the Great Voyages in duplicate.

33. 25 pts. in 6 vols., fawn-colored calf, DE JUSSEU, No. 1423, 730 fr. Some of the first volumes were not of the first impression.

GREAT AND SMALL VOYAGES, WITH THE GERMAN TEXT.

For the description of the Great and Small Voyages in German, we have used: 18, the copy in the Bibliothèque impériale, where the first parts of the Great Voyages are of the second edition; 2°, the "Bibliotheca Grenvilliana;" 3°, more particularly the work published by Weigel, with the title:—

BRY. Bibliographische Mittheilungen über die deutschen Ausgaben von de Bry's Sammlungen der Reisen nach dem abend- und morgenländischen Indien. Leipzig, T.-O. Weigel, 1845. 8vo, pp. 52, including the "Fortsetzung," beginning at p. 41.

This pamphlet is extracted from the "Serapeum."

It has been asserted that the plates of this text had been printed before those of the Latin text, but this cannot apply in the Great Voyages to any but the 9th part, printed in 1601 (the Latin in 1602); the 10th part, 1618 (the Latin in 1619); the 12th part, 1623 (the Latin 1624); the 13th and 14th part, 1627, 1628. In regard to the Small Voyages, it is certain that of the 13 parts of the German text eight preceded, each by about one year, the same parts in Latin. These are parts I-IV, VI-VIII, XI. Part XII, although it has the same date as the Latin edition, must have preceded it by some months. The description which we have given of the plates with the Latin text will serve, with some exceptions, for the German edition.

M. Sobolewski, after having assembled all the parts he could find of this collection, both in Latin and in German, has just finished an essay on the latter, which he designs to print. By comparing the two texts, he has convinced himself that the German edition was made with more care and a better typographical arrangement than the Latin, and that it has experienced fewer transfers from the stock of one bookseller to another. We can add, that the collection of the first editions of all the parts of the German text is very difficult.

A. — GREAT VOYAGES.

I.

The rest as in the first edition, except that there is no privilege, and that the title which precedes the 42 plates is printed from type, and has the address, "Frankfort am Mayn, bey Wolfgang Richtern, in Verlegung Dieterichs de Bry seligen Wittib, und ihrer zweyen Söhne. Anno M. DCIII."

The 42 pl. numbered in Roman figures at the top of the pages, and in Arabic at the foot of the plates, are followed by 13 l. of text as above, sign. M to O five, with the table on the reverse of the last, but without the colophon. This edition of 1603 is enlarged by the translations of the pieces added to the second edition of the Latin text.

III.

BRY. Dritten Buch Americæ, Darinn Brasilia durch Johann Staden von Homberg ausz Hessen, ausz eigener erfahrung in Teutsch beschrieben. Engraved frontispiece, "Schiffart in Brasilien in America ... 1593."

"Lobschrift zu Ehren Johannes Lery," pp. 2.

"Vorrede Johannis Lery," pp. 20.

"Plus Videre quam habere" and "Kurtzer inhalt eines jeden Capitels," together, pp. 7.

Plate, the fall of Adam.

Text, pp. 93-285. Pages 136, 175, 261 are wrongly numbered, and Nos. 248, 249, are repeated.

10 plates, which are printed at pp. 97, 103, 150, 155, 189, 193, 195, 215, 221, and 245.

The plates which, in the Latin text, are at chapters 10, 13, 49, 53, etc., do not occur in the German version, nor does the Index which we have mentioned in describing the Latin edition of this 3d part.

SECOND EDITION, WITH THE SAME DATE AS THE FIRST.

This may be recognized first by the title, where the two words, "Teucrium" and "Priuatum" are divided between two lines, thus, "Teu-crium, "Priua-tum," while in the first they are not divided; and, secondly, by the title after p. 92, which is engraved in the first edition, and printed from type in the second. The rest, as well in the text as the plates, is similar enough to the first edition, only that in the first part of 92 pages, p. 59 is wrongly paged, and in the part, from pp. 93 to 285, pp. 249 and 250 are repeated. In regard to this third part, an edition is described in the "Biblioth. Grenvil.," p. 189, which retains the date 1593 on the frontispiece, but has, in addition, a map dated 1624 (which is perhaps the one which belongs to the eighth part). The copy of the second edition in the Bibliothèque impériale does not have this date (1624) anywhere. It has, on the reverse of p. 3 of the preface, the plate of the seven scutcheons, and then 4 l., which contain, "Vorrede ... Herrn Philipsen, Landtgraffen zu Hesen ... Herrn Philipsen, graff zu Nassau." The fall of Adam is not, ordinarily, in the second edition.

IV.

BRY. Das vierdte Buch von der neuwen Welt, oder Neuwe vnd gründtliche Historien, von dem Nidergängischen Indien, so von Christophoro Columbo im Jar 1492 erstlich erfunden. Durch Hieronymum Bentzo von Meyland, welcher 14 Jar dasselbig Land durchwandert, auff's fleissigst beschrieben vnd an Tag geben; Durch Dieterich von Bry, Bürger in Franckfurt am Mayn. (Without date, but 1594 at the foot of page 141).

The plate with the seven scutcheons of the electors on the reverse.

Imperial privilege, 1 l.

Map, "Occidentalis Americæ."

Preface in 2 l. ("an den günstigen Leser"), with a vignette engraved on the first page.

Another preface, "Den Christlichen vnd frommen Lesern ...", 5 l., with a plate on the first page.

Text, pp. 1-141 (pp. 49, 50 are repeated). At the foot of the last, "Gedruckt zu Franckfort am Mayn bey Johann Feyrabend, in Verlegung Dieterichs von Bry. M. D. xciii."

An engraved title, "Americæ pars quarta ... omnia elegantibus figuris in æs incisus a Theodoro de Bry, Leodiense, cive Francofurtensi. Anno clō. xciii. ...", 24 plates, [the last numbered xxiii and not xxiv].

SECOND EDITION, 1613.

Printed title, in an engraved frontispiece, with no place nor date, and, moreover, in the copy in the Bibliothèque impériale, a Latin title, an engraved plate retaining the date, "Anno clō. xciii." Both have the device, "Nul sans soucy."

3 p. l. as above.

Map, "America sive Novi Orbis descriptio." In the copy in the Bibliothèque impériale, "Orient. Americæ tabula chorographica," date "M.D.xciii."

Six unnumbered leaves, sign. B to Cij (as above).

Text in 141 pages; at the foot of the last, "Zu Franckfurt am Mayn bey Matthias Beckers seligen Wittib, in Verlegung Johann Theodors de Bry. M.DC.xiii."

Engraved Latin title, dated "clō.xciii."

Map, "Occidentalis Americæ" (in some copies only).

24 engravings, with Arabic numbers on the plates.

V.

BRY. Americæ das fünffte Buch, vol schöner unerhörter

Historien, ausz dem andern Theil Joannis Benzonis von Meylandt gezogen ... an Tag geben, durch Dietherich von Bry, Burger in Franckfurt am Mayn.

This first edition is very rare.

Title without date (it is sometimes pasted on the Latin frontispiece, dated "c15 15 xcv").

Preface, with the portrait of Columbus, in a vignette, and the argument, 2 l.

Map, "Hispaniæ novæ ... descriptio, 1595."

Text, pp. 7-115 (pp. 92, 93, 114 are wrongly paged).

Title of the plates, "Americæ pars quinta ... Omnia elegantibus figuris in æs incisiss expressa a Theodoro de Bry Leod. cive Franc. A° c15 15 xcv."

22 Plates, of which the 17th is wrongly numbered.

The second edition has, like the first, a German title, without any date, but some copies have the Latin title dated "c15 15 xcv," while the title which precedes the 22 plates is thus expressed:—

"Folgen hernacher Eigentliche vnd Warhafftige Fürbildungen ... an Tag geben, durch Johann Dietherich de Bry ... Gedruckt zu Franckfurt am Mayn, durch Erasmus Kempffer. M.DC.XIII."

The rest as in the first edition, except that in the text, pp. 57 and 76 are the only ones wrongly paged.

VI.

BRY. Der sechste Theil der neuwen Welt, oder Der Historien Hieron. Benzo von Meylandt, Das dritte Buch ... an Tag geben Durch Dieterich von Bry, Kunststecher vnd Bürger zu Franckfurt am Mayne ... M. D. XCVII.

Title pasted on an engraved plate.

Dedication to Maurice, Landgrave of Hesse, with his scutcheon, 1 l.

Preface (Vorrede), 1 l.

Map, "America ... 1596."

Text, pp. 1-62 [a misprint; it should be 62 l.]. Page 56 is not numbered. On p. 62 is "Gedruckt zu Franckfurt am Mayn bey Johann Feyrabendt, in Verlegung Dieterichs von Bry. Anno M. D. XCVII."

Plate, "Cusco urbs nobilissima ...".

Title "Folgen hernacher Eigentliche Fürbildung ... an Tag geben, Durch Dieterich de Bry Leodiensem. Gedruckt zu Franckfurt am Mayn, durch Johann Feyrabendt. Im Jahr M.D.XCVII."

Plates numbered 1-xxviii.

EDITION OF 1619.

Printed title in an engraved frontispiece; it begins, "Der Sechste Theil Americæ oder der Historien ...", and has the date "MDCXIX."

Dedication, preface, the map "America ... 1596," and the plate "Cusco," as in the first edition.

Text, pp. 1-121, in 22 chapters.

Printed title, "Sechster Theil Americæ Eigentliche Fürbildung ... vnd jetzo von neuem an Tag geben, durch Dieterich de Bry Leodiensem. Oppenheim, in Vorlegung Johann Theodors de Bry. Gedruckt bey Hieronymo Gallern. MDCXVIII."

23 plates.

The map, dated 1596, is wanting in several copies, because it has been used in another part.

VII.

BRY. Das VII. Theil America. Warhafftige vnnnd liebliche Beschreibung etlicher fürnemmen Indianischen Landschafften vnd Insulen, die vormalis in keiner Chronicken gedacht, vnd erstlich in der Schiffart Vlrici Schmidts von Straubingen, mit grosser gefahr erkündigt, vnd von ihm selber auff's fleissigst beschrieben vnd dargethan. Vnd an Tag gebracht durch Dietrich von Bry, Anno M. D. xcvii.

Advertisement of Dietrich de Bry, 1 l.

"Warhafftige Beschreibung ...".

Text, pp. 1-31, the first beginning with an engraving, which is not the same as that in the Latin text.

The Hamburg and the Gotha library each have a copy of this part, in which is found a title for the plates, beginning and ending as follows:—

"Folgen nun die Figuren vnd Kupfferstück, deren etliche ins siebende Theil ... Jetzo new auff's zierlichste zugericht vnd an Tag geben, durch Dieterich de Bry, seligen, nachgelassene Erben. Gedruckt zu Franchfort am Meyn durch Matthæum Becker. m.dc."

The plates are numbered xv and i-iii in the copy at Hamburg, and xv only in that at Gotha ("Weigel," p. 46), which establishes the existence of a second edition of this 7th part.

[For some corrections of the last two paragraphs, see the Appendix.]

THIRD EDITION, 1617.

Printed title, in an engraved frontispiece, and ending thus: "Jetzo zum drittenmal auffgelegt vnd gebessert durch Johan-Theodor de Bry, Bürgern zu Oppenheim ... Gedruckt bei Hieronymo Gallern. m.dc.xvii."

Notice of Theod. de Bry.

Text, pp. 52, the first having an engraving, the fifty-second being blank.

A printed title beginning, "C. Folgen nun die Figuren ...", and ending, "Franchfurt, in Verlegung Joannis-Theodori de Bry S. Erben. m.dc.xxiv."

Three plates, with explanations, at the foot of which is, "Americæ Siebender Theil." In the Latin edition these form the three first of the 18 plates of the eighth volume. They are wanting in some of the copies of the German text. The words "zum dritten mahl an Tag geben," which occur on the title dated 1617, and on that which has the date 1624, confirm the existence of the rare second edition of which we have just spoken.

VIII.

BRY. Americæ Achter Theil, In welchem Erstlich beschrieben wirt das Mächtige vnd Goldreiche Königreich Guiana ... Item, Ein kurtze Beschreibung der vmbligenden Landtschafften Emercia, Arromaia, Amapaia, Topago, etc ... Alles mit fleisz beschrieben durch ... Walthern Raleigh ... The title given above, having at the foot a small square engraved map.
 Advertisement, pp. 3.
 Another of Sir Walter Raleigh, pp. 2.
 "Tabula geographica. Guiana."
 Text, "Guiana" in 1595, pp. 1-56.
 Notice to the reader in regard to another voyage to Guiana, pp. 1-30. [An error: the notice occupies pp. 1, 2; the text of the voyage, pp. 3-30.]
 Title of the voyage of Th. Cavendish, in 1586, etc. ("Reise desz Edlen vnd vesten Thomas Candisch ..."), dated "M. D. xcix."
 Text of Th. Candisch, pp. 1-48.
 Title for the plates ("Warhafftige vnd Eygentliche Fürbildung ..."), dated "M. D. xcix."
 6 plates.
 "Additamentum," title dated "Anno M DC."
 Advertisement, pp. 3, 4.
 Text, pp. 5-73; there is no p. 46.
 Title for the plates ("Folgen nun die Figuren ..."), dated MDC.
 15 plates.

SECOND EDITION, 1624.

Printed title, longer than in the first edition. Here is the beginning and the end:—

BRY. Achter Theil Americæ, darinnen Erstlich beschrieben wird das Mächtige und Goldreiche Königreich Guiana zu Norden ... Von Newem vbersehen in ein richtigere Ordnung gebracht, vnd zum andernmahl vffgelegt, auch mit vielen Kupferstücken vber vorige vermehrt. Franckfurt, Bey Caspar Rödte: in Verlegung Weiland Johannis-Theodori de Bry Seeliger Erben. M. DC. XXIV.

The two prefaces, 5 l., not numbered. Sometimes there is only the preface of Sir Walter Raleigh.

Map, "Guiana."

Text, pp. 1-130, in 2 columns. The plates, to the number of 20, are placed at pp. 3, 11, 15, 19, 21, 27, 58, 62, 70, 75, 81, 84, 92, 94, 98, 103, 116, 119, 121, 124. [For corrections, see the Appendix.]

IX.

BRY. Neundter vnd Letzter Theil Americæ, Darinn gehandelt wird, von gelegenheit der Elementen, Natur ... der Newen Welt: ... Alles auffs trewlichste aus Niederländischer Beschreibung Johan Hugen von Lintschotten, in vnser Hochteutsche Sprache versetzt, durch Johannem Humberger Wetterauium. Ferner auch von der Reise der fünff Schiffe, so im Junio desz 1598. Jahrs, in Hollandt ausgefahren, der meynung, durch das Fretum Magelanum, zu den Moluckischen Inseln zu schiffen ... an Tag geben, durch Dietrichs de Bry seligen Wittib, vndzween Söhne. Gedruckt zu Franckfurt am Mayn, bey Wolfgang Richter. (Without date, or with the date 1601, as in Mr. Grenville's copy.)

"Dedication" to Louis, Landgrave of Hesse, with his arms, 1 l.

"Durchleuchtiger hochgeborner Fürst ...", pp. 2.

"An den gutwilligen Leser," pp. 2.

Text, pp. 1-327 (pp. 224, 238, 297 wrongly numbered).

Title, "Historische Relation Gedruckt zu Franckfurt am Mayn, durch Matthæum Becker. M. DCI."

Text, pp. 3-72 (the numbers 57 and 58 are doubled, and 61 and 62 are wanting; 71 is incorrect).

Title for the plates ("Warhafftige vnd eygentliche Abconterfeyung vnd Fürbildung ..."), dated "in Jahr M. DCI."

25 plates.

Title, "Additamentum Oder Anhang desz neunnden Theils Americæ Gedruckt zu Franckfurt am Mayn, durch Matthæum Becker. M. DCII."

Map, "Fretum Magellanicum" (not in the 2d edition).

Text, pp. 3-103, the last numbered 130.

Title of the plates ("Warhafftige ..."), dated "in Jahr 1602."

14 plates.

SECOND EDITION.

The title differs much from that of the first edition. It begins with these three words, "Neundter Theil Americæ," without the words "vnd Letzter" before "Theil," and ends, "Vnd an Tag geben durch Matthæum Merian Getruckt zu Franckfurt am Mayn, bey Wolfgang Hoffmann" in part of the copies "bey Matheo Rempffern").

The title given above, printed in an engraved frontispiece, is also undated.

Dedication, with the arms, 1 l.

The two advertisements (the 1st dated 1601), 2 l.

Text, pp. 1-206 (with the mistakes in pagination).

Title, "Additamentum, dated as in the first edition.

Title of the plates ("Warhafftige"), the same.

Plates, numbered I-XIV.

As this second edition was published by Matth. Merian, it could not have appeared before 1620.

The "Additamentum" of this 9th part had been previously published separately with this title:—

BRY. Neur Schiffart. Warhafftige und eygentliche Beschreibung der Langwierigen, sorglichen und gefährlichen Reyse so Olivier van Noort, General Oberster uber vier Schiffe durch das gefährliche Fretum Magellanicum um die gaz Welt gethan hat, verteutsch durch M. Gothard Arthus von Dantzic. Franckfurt am Mayne, bey Matthias Becker, 1602. 4to, pp. 119, including the engraved Frontispiece, and 14 Plates.

X.

BRY. Zehender Theil Americæ Darinnen Zubefinden: Erstlich zwo Schiffarten Herrn Americi Vesputii ... Zum andern: Ein gründlicher Bericht von dem jetzigen Zustand der Landschaft Virginien. ... Zum dritten: Ein warhafftige Beschreibung desz neuen Engellands ... von Capitein Johann Schmiden ... beschrieben ... in Vorlegung Johann-Theodor de Bry, Kunst vna

Buchbändlers. Gedruckt zu Oppenheim bey Hieronymo Gallern, Anno MDXVIII.

The title given above, printed, with an engraved vignette.

Notice to the reader, pp. 2.

Map, "America noviter delineata."

Text, pp. 5-73 (the 66th is wrongly paged in many copies).

Printed title for the plates ("Folgen hernacher Eigentliche ... Fürbildungen ..."), with the date "Anno MDXVIII."

Plates numbered 1-XII.

XI.

BRY. Historische Beschreibung, Der wunderbarlichen Reyse, welche von einem Holländer, Wilhelm Schouten genandt, neu-licher Zeit ist verrichtet worden: ... ans Tage Liecht gegeben, durch vnd in Verlegung Johann-Dieterich von Bry. Getruckt zu Franckfurt am Mayn, Durch Paull Jacobi. Im Jahr, M. DC. XIX.

There are copies in which the title begins thus, "Eylffter Theil Americæ. Beschreibung der ...".

[See the Appendix.]

After this title are:

Advertisement, pp. 2.

2 maps, a. "Nova Guinea," b. "Mappe von der Südsee."

Text, pp. 5-35.

Printed title for the plates ("Folgen ... Fürbildung"), dated "Anno MDCXIX."

9 plates, numbered 1-IX.

BRY. Appendix desz eilfften Theils Americæ. ... Getruckt zu Oppenheim bey Hieronymo Gallern, in Verlegung Johann Theodor de Bry. Anno M DC XX.

Text, pp. 3-38 (the 36th wrongly numbered).

Another printed title for the plates, dated "Anno MDC. XX."

20 plates, numbered 1-XX.

The two maps mentioned above, on Weigel's authority, are not found in most copies.

It is probable that the copies of this eleventh part and the thirteenth, whose titles do not show the order which they hold in the collection, were published separately, and perhaps previously to those copies which were designed to form the continuation of the first parts.

XII.

BRY. Zwölffter Theil der Newen Welt, Das ist: Gründliche volkommene Entdeckung aller der West-Indianischen Landschaften ... Insuln ... entdeckt vnd beschrieben, Durch Antonium de Herrera, ... Item Petri Ordonnez de Cevallos Beschreibung der West Indianischen Landschaften. ... Gedruckt zu Frankfurt, in Verlegung Johann Dietherichs de Bry, Anno 1623.

Printed title, in an engraved frontispiece.

Herrera's preface, with no table, 1 l.

Map, "America sive novus orbis."

Text in two columns, pp. 1-131 (p. 14 wrongly numbered). The plate "Cusco vrbs nobilissima" occurs at p. 99.

The 14 plates (16 in the copy of Mr. Grenville) which belong to the text of Herrera are placed either in this part or in the 13th.

In place of the "Paralipomena," which in the Latin edition follow p. 73 of the text, this edition has 38 pages on San Salvador and Aldendurg [so in Brunet], with an appendix; in the Latin edition this forms the 7th section of the 13th and last part.

XIII.

BRY. Dreyzehender Theil Americæ; Das ist: Fortsetzung der Historien von der Newen Welt, oder Nidergängischen Indien; Darinnen erstlich ein satzsame und gründtliche Beschreibung desz Newen Engellands, Virginia, Brasilia, Guiana, und Bermuda. Am Ende ist ein Discurs, von der Statt St. Salvator ... Franckfurt, Gedruckt bey Caspar Rötzel, in Verlegung Matthei Merian. Anno M. DC. XXVIII.

The copy in the Bibliothèque impériale has the title given above; but in other copies this title begins thus, "Continuatio Americæ, d. i. Fortsetzung ...", and the date is "M. DC. XXVII."

Notice to the reader, 1 l.

Text, pp. 1-90 (p. 87 is wrongly numbered). There are 7 pl. in the text, at pp. 5, 7, 15, 37, 42, 60, and 69.

Map of Virginia, for p. 17, and a map of Guiana for p. 67.

Another text, pp. 1-38.

And besides, according to Weigel,

A plate, "Warhafftige Abbildung von Einnehmung der statt S. Salvator."

This part contains the text of the seven first sections of the Latin translation printed in 1634. In Mr. Grenville's copy, at p. 67, is a map of Brazil which is not in the Latin edition.

XIV.

BRY. Vierzehender Theil Americanischer Historien, Inhaltend, Erstlich, Warhafftige Beschreibung etlicher West-Indianischer Landen ... Als New Mexico, Cibola, Cinaloa, Quiuira, ... Zum Andern, Eine Schiffart der Holländer vnder dem Admiral Jacob Eremiten vmb die gantze Welt ... Zum Dritten, Historische [so in Brunet] Erzählung, welcher gestalt die sehr reiche Spanische Silberflotta durch Peter Hein ... 1628 ertapt vnd heim gebracht worden. Zum Vierdten, Was massen die Statt Olinda de Fernambucco ... erobert worden ... an den Tag gegeben durch Mattheum Merian, Buchhändlern vnd Kunststechern zu Franckfurt am Mayn, Gedruckt zu Hanaw bey David Aubrj, im Jahr MDCXXX.

Printed title.

Advertisement, 1 l.

Text, pp. 1-72, with 14 plates printed at pp. 8, 21, 23, 26, 30, 35, 36, 39, 41, 48, 50, 55, 60, and 64.

At p. 69 are two plates on a single sheet, "Olinde" and "Phernanbucco."

The copy described by Weigel has, after the title, 3 maps which are not in that in the Bibliothèque impériale, a. "Description de las Indias orientales," b. "Fretum magellanicum," c. "Virginia."

And after the advertisement two other maps:—

"America noviter delineata,"

"Das Norder Theil des Lands Brasilien."

This 14th German part contains sections 8 to 15, which are in Latin in the 13th volume of the Great Voyages in that language, printed only in 1634.

ABRIDGEMENT OF THE GREAT VOYAGES.

BRY. America, das ist, Erfindung und Offenbahrung der Newen Welt, etc., durch M. Philippum Ziglerum von Würzburg; und in Truck gegeben von Johan Theodoro de Bry, Buchhändlern und Bürgern zu Oppenheim. Gedruckt zu Franckfurt am Mayn durch Nicolaum Hoffmann, 1617. Folio.

This volume contains an abridgement of the nine first parts of the Great Voyages, and some other relations already published.

BRY. Historia Antipodum, Neue Welt and Americanische Historien. Inhaltend Beschreibungen aller West-Indianischen Landschafften, Insulen, etc., Durch Johan Ludwig Gottfriedt; mit Landtafeln Kupfferstucken, etc. Durch Mattheum Merian, Buchbändlern und Kunst-Stechern zu Frankfurt am Mayne, anno 1631. 3 pts. in 1 vol., folio.

An abridgement of the twelve first parts of the German text of the Great Voyages published by the de Bry. The two first parts form, together, pp. 562, and have, moreover, an engraved frontispiece, a printed title, and 4 preliminary leaves for the dedicatory epistle and the preface; the third part has only 72 pages. The second edition, printed at Frankfort, in 1665, contains some additions.

This work should not be confounded with the three parts of the Great Voyages (the 3d, 4th, and 9th), which, in the editions issued by Math. Merian in 1630, 1644, and 1633, also have the title, "Historia Antipodum."

A P P E N D I X.

At the end of the volume which contains the article de Bry, Brunet prints a letter received from M. Sobolewski after that article was printed.

PARIS, 1 October, 1860.

I am proud, Monsieur, to be cited by you, and I regret that I did not arrive in Paris soon enough to communicate to you some observations on the Great and the Small Voyages of De Bry in German, while you were printing your notice. You have here only a single copy, by no means complete, and this has prevented your being as exact and as explicit in regard to the German collection as you are for the Latin. As to the latter, your notice would leave nothing to be desired if you had not accepted, with too much confidence, all that I had the honor to say to you in a former letter. Unhappily I have led you into error in regard to the first part of the Great Voyages (col. 1315), and I hasten to set right what I then advanced; at Moscow I had not the means of verifying some notes formerly taken on a journey.

There are only two impressions of the original edition (the one which has large numbers printed above the plates). I had thought that there were three varieties of the explanations of plates III, VIII, and X. It was a mistake; there are only two. On the other hand, I had forgotten to tell you that there were also two varieties of the explanation of plate XXII; this should be added to the table which you give in col. 1316. This had escaped MM. De Bure.

There are also two impressions of the second edition of this part (the one with small characters printed above the plates), which reproduce, line by line, — but only for pp. 7-34 of the text, — the two impressions of the original edition. You have indicated perfectly, at the foot of col. 1313, the differences which distinguish the preliminary and supplementary matter of this second edition from the same sheets of the original edition; as to the explanations of the plates, it is again I that have led you into error. The two impressions of the second edition do not reproduce, as you say, following me, the two impressions of the first, although the attempt was made for a few plates. In general the explanations with the small figures are differently arranged from those with the large figures, and are only to be met with in one impression, excepting a single plate, the XXII. I have a copy where the first line ends, not as usually with "principum se," but with "sepulturam," and contains 18 lines in place of 20. It may be that some other differences have escaped me, in consequence of my not having had occasion to notice them; for this reason I subjoin a table, which rectifies and completes your two tables, and gives to amateurs the means of verifying and establishing such discoveries as are still possible. As to what Santander says, it is erroneous merely because he did not distinctly make up his mind what should be called first and second editions. For my part, I understand by first edition either of the two impressions with large numbers, and by second edition either of the two impressions with small figures (see the remarks after the following table). After having consulted a considerable number of copies, which had remained in their ancient bindings, I am convinced that the two impressions of the first edition are always to be found mingled, whether the title has "Theodor Feirabendi" or "Theodori Feyrabendii," and that it is impossible to decide the question of priority.

Table to be substituted for those of columns 1316 and 1317.

The first column gives the number of the plates.

The second column gives the number of the lines of explanation below the plate, and the last word of the first line of one of the impressions of the edition with large numbers. Measure of this larger number

The third column gives the same number and the same word for the other impression with large numbers

The fourth column marks in the same way the edition with small numbers.

Measure of this smaller number

N. B. To make the differences in the ends of the lines of the different editions more conspicuous, we have printed here several words in Italica, although these words are in Roman in the editions which we have described.

Collection of the de Bry, in German.

Col. 1344. The copy in the Bibliothèque impériale, the only one, I believe, that you have at Paris, is very defective. It is, therefore, not astonishing that in using mine, which is perfectly complete, I find several corrections to be made in your article. I will begin by remarking that the titles of the first parts of the Great Voyages in German are, in general, printed separately and pasted on the frontispieces engraved for the Latin edition; but they are sometimes found printed on frontispieces where the legend had been left blank.

Col. 1345-46. First part, second and third editions. The title which precedes the engravings is entirely printed from type, while in this it is printed in an engraved cartouch.

Col. 1346. Second part, second edition. I add, as distinctive marks of this edition, that the privilege is dated 20 August 1603, and that the text is numbered in Arabic figures 1-42, instead of in Roman numerals I-XLII, as in the first edition.

Col. 1347. Third part. The two editions of this part resemble one another perfectly in type and paper, but there are some differences which might easily escape the collater, and are worth while to note: In the first edition the catch-word of p. 7 is "wilden," with a small w, and the word "Referirt" on the second line of p. 285 has a capital R, but the second has "Wilden," with a capital W, and "referirt," with a small r. If p. 136 is wrongly numbered in some copies, it is from an accident during the printing, as I have satisfied myself, and this error is very often to be found corrected. Where the map is dated 1624, it is because, to supply one wanting in that copy, one was taken from a later edition, as this map is to be found repeated in other parts printed later.

Col. 1348. Fourth part, first edition. The last plate is numbered xxxiii, and not xxiv.

Col. 1349. Sixth part, first edition. The text has 62 leaves and not 62 pages; this is a misprint in your account.

Seventh part. The last seven lines of your col. 1349 and the first seven of col. 1350, contain some errors borrowed from the account given by Weigel, who had apparently used a copy in which the binder had introduced some plates not belonging there. To understand this, it should be known that the three plates of the seventh part of the Great Voyages in German were published at first at the end of the "Additamentum" of the eighth part, in 1600, as was done in the Latin edition; they there form Nos. 1, II, III, and are preceded by the following general title, "Folgen nun die Figuren ... deren etliche ins siebende Theil ... etliche ins achte ... jetzo new auff's nuerlichste ausgericht und an Tag geben durch Dieterich de Bry, seligen Erben. Gedruckt zu Franckfort am Mayn durch Matthæum Becker, MDC.;" but afterward, when a second edition of the eighth part was published in 1624, with illustrations in the text and the "Additamentum" included in the text, as there was no place for these plates, they were struck off again with a title printed ad hoc, beginning, "Folgen nun die Figuren, welche ins siebende Theil, zur beschreibung der Reysen Ulrich Schmidts von Straubingen gehören," and ending with, "Frankfurt, in Verlegung Joannis Theodori de Bry S. Erben, M. DC. xxiv." This title and these three engravings, by themselves, ought only to be met with, therefore, in the copies of the collection where the eighth part is of the first edition, and where the "Additamentum" of 1600 is to be found; while they are duplicates in those where the eighth part is of the second edition. The impression of 1624 is distinguished from that of 1600, as you remark further on, by the words, "Americæ siebender Theil," below the explanation of each engraving. No second edition of this part is known, but a third edition is known; it is remarkable that the case is the same with the Latin text of this part.

Col. 1350. Eighth part, first edition. You reproduce a slight inaccuracy of Weigel, when you say that the notice to the reader in regard to another voyage to Guiana extends from p. 1 to p. 30. The notice of this second voyage of Raleigh to Guiana occupies pp. 1 and 2; the text of the voyage, pp. 3-30.

The text of the second edition of the eighth part contains all that is in the first edition and the "Additamentum," no more, no less, but arranged in a better order. As to the plates, those which are at pp. 15, 76, 116, are not in the first edition; plate xii of the "Additamentum" of 1600 is wholly wanting, as well as plates i, ii, iii, for which, as I have said above, there was no longer any place.

Col. 1352. Tenth part. The vignette of the title is different in some copies; the case is the same in the Latin edition.

Except in the points that I have mentioned, I find everything perfectly exact and precise. The differences between the plates of the different editions might be pointed out, especially for the Small Voyages in German, but this could be done only by the aid of engravings, which would occupy too much space, and, moreover, would only interest the booksellers and the amateurs in Germany, of whom you are, Monsieur, the guide and the providence.

Receive my thanks for the honor you have done me in associating my name with yours, as well as the assurance of my high and sincere consideration.

SERGE SOBOLWSEKI.

BUENO (C.) Descripcion de las Provincias de el Peru. Por el Cosmographo mayor del Virreynato, Don Cosme Bueno. Lima. 1763. 8vo, pp. 262. 8987

"This work appears to have been published with the Guia or Calendario of Lima annually, during seventeen years, and is probably the most correct geographical account of Peru and Chili extant; the author says it required all that time to obtain the necessary information from the different provinces. In point of rarity, the book may be considered as almost unique, as few persons will have taken the trouble to have collected together these separate accounts published in such a length of time, and to have formed them into a volume. The title is MS.; nor is it probable there ever was a separate printed one." — RICH, 1. 141. The following is perhaps the same work:

After General Burgoyne's surrender, he was allowed to return to England on parole. Thinking himself ill treated by the government, and having been elected Member of Parliament for Preston, he joined the opposition; whereupon an official order was sent to him, signifying that it was the King's pleasure that he should return to America and rejoin his captive army. He remonstrated, and was again ordered, and, in consequence, resigned all his civil and military employments. In this letter he gives an explanation of his conduct. See M. R., Lxi. 389; Rich, i. 278.

"This writer merits commendation for the decent and candid strains in which he writes. He does not, like the general's antagonist above mentioned, assail with a blunted tomahawk. He cuts up like a skillful surgeon, and dissects his subject with the dexterity of an able anatomist." — M. R., LXI. 389. Attributed to Sir John Dalrymple, but with more probability to George Germaine, Lord Sackville, who was colonial secretary during the American Revolution.

The authorship of this book has been attributed to Soame Jenyns, Richard Burke, and afterwards to Wm. Bourke, but it is now satisfactorily decided to be mainly the work of Edmund Burke, assisted by his brother Richard, and his friend, William Bourke. An advertisement, by the editor of the quarto edition, now very scarce, places the question beyond doubt. See McCulloch's "Lit. of Pol. Economy," p. 88; M. R., xviii, 537. Its popularity was so great, that it was translated into many languages, as below:

This work consists of two volumes; for the portions taken from it and published as separate treatises will have to be added to it as a second or supplementary volume, according to the author's explanation on pp. 119 and 120. Their separation from the main work has been owing to practical reasons; and they form, as shown by the continuous pagination, essential parts of the work. In fact, without their embodiment into the work, the use of the copious geographical index, which also refers to them, would be made nugatory. These treatises, or chapters, should be added to the second volume in the following order: i. Die Lautveränderung aztekischer Wörter in den sonorischen Sprachen. ii. Die Pima Sprache. iii. Der Athapaskische Sprachstamm. iv. Die Völker und Sprachen Neumexicos. v. Die Völker und Sprachen des britischen Ostlandes (contained in the October part of 1858, of "Monatsberichte der Berliner Akademie," pp. 465 to 486). vi. Die Sprachen Kizh und Netela von Neu-Californien.

The above is a general title for a series of tracts, written or edited by Mr. Bushnell. For the titles at length, see under the names of the authors. About a hundred copies were printed, and complete sets have become scarce. The portraits, &c., were engraved by Dr. Anderson, when in his eighty-eighth year. Mr. Bushnell's notes on these authors are both copious and minute, and, in some cases, exceed in volume the original text.

Twenty pages of the text are in black letter, the remainder in Roman. The dedication is signed "W. C." [Castell?]. This is the very rare, curious, and interesting voyage which Malone considered as having suggested to Shakespeare his different allusions to these Islands, as the still-vexed Bermoothes in the "Tempest." But Joseph Hunter, in his "New Illustrations of ... Shakespeare, London, 1845," 2 vols., 8vo, t. 145-164, maintains that the play was written in 1596, that the scene is laid in Lampedusa, and that the allusion to "the still-vex'd Bermoothes" was derived from Raleigh's "Discoverie of Guiana, 1596." This account was translated into Italian by Ramusio, and paraphrased into English by Purchas. Ternaux gave a French version, and Mr. Buckingham Smith a new translation from the original Spanish. The text was printed by Barcia, who availed himself of the opportunity to add a dissertation vindicating Cabeça de Vaca from the aspersions of Honorio Philipono. Respecting the name of this author, the reader may consult Ternaux's reprint, or a quotation in [Harrisse's] "Bib. Am. Vet.," pp. 381-384, where also will be found an interesting account of the book and its author.

By Gen. John Cadwallader, though its real authorship has been attributed to Dr. B. Rush. The original edition of this and Reed's remarks having been suppressed by one or other of the parties concerned, are two of the rarest pieces in Pennsylvania literature, and may be estimated at from twenty to thirty dollars each. The occasion of the dispute was the assertion, by Gen. Cadwallader, that in Dec., 1776, before the battle of Trenton, Gen. Reed was so much depressed by the sad state of American affairs as to meditate withdrawing from the service. This assertion Gen. Reed denies, and Gen. Cadwallader defends, in very heated and bitter language. The dispute was revived on the publication of the ninth volume of Mr. Bancroft's history. See Reed (W. B.) Reprinted with the following title:

Caledonia; or, the Pedlar turn'd Merchant. A Tragi-Comedy As it was Acted by His Majesty's Subjects of Scotland, in the King of Spain's Province of Darien. London, printed. 1700. 4to, pp. 30. 9919

A satirical poem, almost unknown to American bibliographers. Part of the title is given in the "Biographia Dramatica," where it is supposed to be a dramatic piece. In reality, it consists of 127 four-line stanzas. It is a humorous, though somewhat coarse, satire, in Ned Ward's style, on the Scots settlement at Darien, and Will. Paterson, the projector of it. It was burnt at Edinburgh by order of the Parliament. See the "New Retrospective Review," No. 2. Brockett's copy sold for 7s. 6d. Priced, by J. R. Smith, at £2 2s.

BA., H. 9925

The long title to this rare little volume is, in fact, an abridgment of its contents. The book consists chiefly of a daily journal, in which the events of the siege are recorded with apparent precision, but with a strong English bias. See Rich. An indifferent copy of this tract brought $20, at an auction in New York, Dec. 18, 1868.

"The dedication is signed 'John Callander,' who was probably the translator of the work, which was written originally in French, by the President de Brosses, and printed at Paris in 1756. Mr. Callander merely acknowledges that he had 'drawn many helps' from the French writer, whom he does not name, and appears inclined to take the principal merit of the work to himself, although the translation is almost literal, and the additions trifling."—RICH. The second and third volumes were published in 1768, and were reissued in 1788, with new title-pages, as a "A Collection of Voyages to the Southern Hemisphere," the last leaf of each volume only being reprinted. A list of the contents of these volumes is contained in the "Alphabetical Catalogue of the Library of Congress, 1864," pp. 203. See M. R., xxxvi. 284; xxxix. 66.

"Rich makes no mention of this volume, which was privately printed for the use of the King and Council. It must not be confounded with the book described in the following number. It is a book of the utmost importance to the historian of Spanish America, being a kind of private official handbook or directory of Mexico, Yucatan, Honduras, Guatemala, Nicaragua, etc. The author was Secretary to the Council of the Indies."

J.C.B. 10058

An exceedingly rare volume; the supplemental leaves, "Memorial Breve," pp. 1-8, and "Noticias Importantes," 5 leaves, were subsequently printed, and are frequently wanting. In Stevens' "Nuggets," No. 437, a copy is described, with some variations. The author remarks, in folio 180, that only a few copies had been printed for the use of the King, his Council, and Ministers. It is probably a later issue of the preceding, with additions, alterations, and corrections. Two of the preliminary leaves have been cancelled and reprinted with alterations, viz.: the last leaf of the Epistle Dedicatory and the first leaf of the Indice. Two preliminary leaves are added, making in this impression 14, viz.: "Prosegue el Indice deste Memorial" and "Notas," 2 pages; and Erratas, 1 page, reverse blank; folios 10, 11, 22, 23, 33, and 35 of the text are reprinted, with considerable additions and some omissions. The errata after folio 183 are cancelled, and placed here on the 14th preliminary leaf, reprinted with corrections. Sold, at Puttick's, in 1860, for £5 10s.

"Without titles or preliminaries. From 2 royal orders inserted at pages 46 and 47, of Vol. iv., we learn that the work was composed by D. Juan del Corral Calvo de la Torre, Oidor in the Audiencia of Santiago de Chile; and that in 1732 he was ordered to send the work to Spain to be printed. In 1735 the first and second volumes had been examined and highly approved by the Council of the Indies, and the author was requested to send the 3d and 4th, and to finish the 5th and 6th, which would complete the work, but it appears that death prevented his completing the 4th volume, which only reaches to the 12th title of the 5th book—the index to this volume being headed thus: 'Rerum quæ in hac parte Quarti tomi, (morte auctoris ita relictæ) continentur,' &c. Apparently the work was left in this state, and never published. The indexes to each volume are also imperfect. This copy was found in sheets among the papers of D. Bernardo Yriarte."—RICH.

CANADA. — Many anonymous books relating to Canada will be found in other parts of this Dictionary. The following arrangement is entirely arbitrary, but seemed desirable, — the various names of Upper and Lower Canada, Haute et Bas-Canada, and the more recent distinctions of the provinces of Ottawa and Quebec, are merged into this one dominion—Canada; still, some books overlooked here may be found under their respective captions. For references to the British Parliamentary documents which relate to Canada, see the Catalogue of the Public Library of Boston, art. "Great Britain. Parliament;" also, a "Catalogue of the Library of the Parliament of Canada."

CANDIDUS, pseudon. Plain Truth; Addressed to the Inhabitants of America, Containing, Remarks on a late Pamphlet entitled Common Sense: Wherein are shewn, that the Scheme of Independence is Ruinous, Delusive and Impracticable: That were the Author's Asseverations, respecting the Power of America, as Real as Nugatory; Reconciliation on liberal Principles with Great Britain, would be exalted Policy: And that circumstanced as we are, Permanent Liberty, and True Happiness, can only be obtained by Reconcilliation with that Kingdom. Written by Candidus. ... Philadelphia: R. Bell. MDCCCLXXVI. 8vo, pp. 74. H. + London: Reprinted for J. Almon. M.DCC.LXXVI. 8vo, pp. (4), 47, (1). + Dublin: Reprinted by M. Mills. M.DCC.LXXVI. 8vo, 2 l., pp. 44. N. 10671

"It is written with such outrageous zeal, and contains so many scurrilous reflections against the author of 'Common Sense' and the supposed favorers of independency, that we may safely conclude, from its having been printed in Philadelphia, that the congress either do not aim at a separation from this country, or that their government is not of the tyrannical nature which some have chosen to represent it."—*M. Ludewig quotes the following title: "Grammatica y Vocabulario de la Lengua Otomi. Mexico. 1645," 4to, and remarks, "The Otomi is the language of the Indians to the north-west of the Valley of Anahac." The title, probably, is an error. Adelung, in his "Mithridates," III. 92, gives the same title, but following Sotwel, who always translates titles, in Latin. Ternaux also gives the title of this book erroneously, and Brunet copies his error. Thorpe, in one of his catalogues, No. 4755, prices it at £3 8s., and appends a note concerning its rarity, which is incorrect. Quaritch, 1870, marks it £10s. The author embarked for Mexico in 1605, and died there in 1666.

CAROCHI. Compendio del Arte de la Lengua Mexicana del P. Horacio Carochi de la Compañia de Jesvs; Dispuesto con brevedad, claridad, y propiedad, por el P. Ignacio de Paredes de la misma Compañia, y morador del Colegio destinado solamente para Indios, de S. Gregorio de la Compañia de Jesvs de Mexico: Y dividido en tres partes: En la primera se trata de todo lo perteneciente à Reglas Arte, con toda su variedad, excepciones, y anomalias; En que nada se podrá desear, que no se halle: En la segunda se enseña la formacion de unos vocablos, de otros. Y assi con sola una voz, que se sepa, se podrán con facilidad derivar otras muchas: En la tercera se ponen los Adverbios màs necessarios de la Lengua. Con todo lo qual qualquiera à poco trabajo, y en breve tiempo podrá con facilidad, propiedad, y expedicion hablar e Idioma. Y el mismo no menos afectuoso, que rendido, y reverente lo dedica, y consagra al Gloriosissimo Patriarcha San Ignacio de Loyola, Autor, y Fundador de la Compañia de Jesus. Con Las Licencias Necessarias, En Mexico, en la Imprenta de la Biblioteca Mexicana, en frente de S. Augustin. Año de 1759. 4to, 11 l., pp. 202. Frontispiece. 10954

This is an abridgment of the previous work, with some additions by Paredes. "Il P. Orazio Carochi, dotto Gesuita milanese, pubblicò alcuni eleganti versi degli antichi Memicana nella sua eccellente Gramatica." — Clavigero, II. 176. "Tres rare. Vendu 139 fr. Rætzel." — BAUNER. The copperplate frontispiece (often wanting) represents S. Ignacio de Loyola.

[CARTWRIGHT (John).] American Independence the Interest and Glory of Great Britain; or, Arguments to prove, that not only in Taxation, but in Trade, Manufactures, and Government, the Colonies are entitled to an entire Independency on the British Legislature; and that it can only be by a formal Declaration of these Rights, and forming thereupon a friendly League with them, that the true and lasting Welfare of both Countries can be promoted. In a Series of Letters to the Legislature. To which are added copious Notes; containing Reflections on the Boston and Quebec Acts; and a full Justification of the People of Boston, for destroying the British-taxed Tea; submitted to the Judgment, not of those who have none but borrowed Party-opinions, but of the candid and honest. London: Printed for the Author, by H. S. Woodfall. M. DCC. LXXIV. 8vo, pp. xvi, iv, 72. 11152

Speaking of this publication, the author's biographer says, "at a time when no Member of Parliament had sufficient decision of mind to propose the Independence of America, Major Cartwright suggested the expediency of an Union between Great Britain and her Colonies under separate Legislatures." See also M. R., LVIII, 238. Reprinted with the following title:

CARTWRIGHT. American Independence, the Interest and Glory of Great Britain. A New Edition. To which is added, A copious Appendix, containing two additional Letters to the Legislature; a Letter to Edmund Burke, Esq. controverting his Principles of American Government. And A Postscript, containing new Arguments on the Subject; A Draught of a Bill proposed to be brought into Parliament for restoring Peace and Harmony between Great-Britain and British America, and for perpetuating the same: Together with The essential Materials for a proposed Grand British League and Confederacy, to be entered into by Great-Britain and all the States of British America. The whole of which shews, beyond Denial or Doubt, that by granting the Colonists an unrestrained civil Freedom and Legislative Independence, we may most effectually secure their future Commercial Dependence upon, and consequently shall best promote the Interest, and support the Glory of Great-Britain. ... London: J. Wilkie. M.DCC.LXXV. 8vo, 1 l., pp. xvi, iv, 72, 15, 30, 51, (1). Map. B. 11154

The letter to Burke, referred to on the title, was published with a separate title. See No. 11157, infra. In this new edition the author gives the names and boundaries of nineteen American States, together with a map of the same. See M. R., LVIII. 238.

Major Cartwright's early life was passed in America, where he distinguished himself by discoveries in New Foundland. The appendix contains his "remarks on the situation of the Aborigines of Newfoundland," now an extinct race. His liberal opinions made him a correspondent of Jefferson and other of the leading political men of the United States, whose letters are frequent in his life. He died, circa, 1828 or 1830. A bronze statue was erected to his memory in Burton Crescent, London. See M. R., July, 1826.

Bernardin de Carvajal, a Spanish Cardinal and statesman, born at Palencia about 1456, died 1523. The author was Spanish Ambassador to the Court of Rome. This very rare volume is curious for its early reference to the discoveries of Columbus. Audifredi supposes it to be printed by Silber, and quotes a copy in the Vatican. Portrait and 1 Plate, 3 colored Plates, 2 Maps. BA. 11184

The first edition is printed with a large margin, and is often called, in booksellers' catalogues, large paper. I have seen many copies, but they were all the same size until cut by the binder. To the third and best edition, a biography of the author, and an index, are added by John Coakley Lettsom, M.D., who had become the proprietor of the work, and whose preface is dated March 30, 1781. The new plates include a portrait of Carver, and a colored drawing of the tobacco plant. With the exception of the prefatory matter, however, and the index to this edition, the three are precisely alike. The life and index were printed separately, "for the convenience of the purchasers of the first and second editions; on whom I was unwilling to raise an extraordinary tax for the third edition." — J. C. LETTSOM. Lowndes quotes a large paper copy; but I have not seen one entitled to that appellation. "Carver came to England soon after he returned from his travels, with the intention of publishing his account of them; but when he had already sold the MS. to a bookseller, he was ordered by the government to deliver up all his maps and journals; and it was not until near ten years after, that he obtained permission to publish the work." — M. R., LX. 90.

"This valuable work lately attracted much attention from its description of parts near to the supposed North-West Passage." — LOWNDEN. An admirable work, full of novel information respecting the interior of North America, and its savage inhabitants. Although this work was very favorably received, and went through several editions, its author derived but little benefit from it; and, in 1780, "a putrid fever supervening a long continued dysentery, brought on by want, put an end to the life of a man, who, after rendering, at the expense of fortune and health, and the risk of life, many important services to his country, perished through want, in the first city of the world." — LETTSOM. "Omnia utila aequae ac jucunda, magnam partem nova." — MEYER. See N. A. R., I. 75, M. R., LXV. 392, and Schoolcraft's "Personal Memoirs, p. 168. The opening of the Wisconsin Territory suggested to an enterprising firm the republication of the work, under the following title:

This piece contains the "Argumento" and the "Svmmario," by De Soto, the "Objections," by Sepulveda, and the "Replicas," by Las Casas. "Principia quedam," in the Italian version, is printed after the "Argumento," in its proper place.

A complete set of this Spanish series of Las Casas is extremely rare. We believe our list is complete, containing more than De Bure's, in whose time only five parts were known to bibliographers. Richarderie copies De Bure; nor was Llorente, in his notice of the works of Las Casas, better informed, as he only reprints six. Dibdin remarks, "His history is a prodigiously great gun in the bibliographical battery of collectors; especially if the original Spanish work, in seven parts, 1552, 4to, be complete, and in all respects uncounterfeited." A complete set is worth from $100 to $150. The counterfeit edition bears the date of 1552, but is really printed about one hundred years later. Our arrangement is according to subjects, and also nearly chronological. No. 11227, the "Breuissima relacion," was composed in Valencia in 1541-2. No. 11228, "Lo que se sigue," is an appendage added just after No. 11227 was printed, in 1552. No. 11229, "Entre los Remedios," was composed in 1543. No. 11230 "Estas vn tratado," was written in 1543. No. 11231, "Tratado comprobatorio," was written about the same time. No. 11232, known as the "Confessionario," was prepared in America, in 1545 or 1546, and No. 11233, "Treynta propositiones," in Spain, about 1548, as a justification of No. 11232. No. 11234 is the "Disputa" of 1550 with Sepulveda, and No. 11235, "Principia quedam," belongs to it, as giving the principles on which the controversy was conducted. Llorente, in 1822, omits Nos. 11231, 11232, and 11235, alluding to the two first, but not aware of their being in print. He gives a translation of the "Quaestio de imperatoriā vel regiā potestate," first printed at Spire in 1571, and two pieces of the author, not before printed. The first translation made, was into Flemish in 1578. The next was Miggrode's translation into French, 1579. The English translation of 1583, by J. P. and M. M. S. comes next. The first Dutch version appeared in 1596, and the earliest German ones in 1597. De Bry, in 1598, published an illustrated Latin version of Nos. 11227, 11228, and 11229, and the "Sumario" of the "Disputa." The first Italian versions appeared in 1626.

This reimpression of our No. 11227 was produced under the supervision of Dr. de Mier. A few copies only were printed.

[CASAS.] Erudita et elegans explicatio quæstionis: utrum reges vel principes jure aliquo, vel titulo, et salva conscientia, cives ac subditos a regia corona alienare et alterius domoni particularis ditione subjicere possint? Cura et studio Wolff. Gries-tetteri. [Francofurti ad Mœnum. apud Georg. Coruinum, impensis Hieron. Feyerabend.] 1571. 4to, 4 l., pp. 67. 11237

First edition of this piece, a translation of which is included by Llorente in the "Œuvres," 1822, p. 50, who ascribes it certainly to the Bishop, though Raynouard, "Journal des Savans," Jan., 1823, doubts its authorship. Las Casas, however, says, towards the close of the "Replicas," in the "Disputa," fol. 55, verso, that he had composed several tratados, both in Spanish and Latin, on the title, by which the Spanish sovereigns held the Indies. As the "Tratado comprobatorio" is the only one on this subject, known to be by him, this may well be another; again published as:

Some copies have a title dated 1552, without the printer's name, or place; but this edition may be known by the type being Roman, and by the numbered leaves.

A French translation appeared the same year. See No. 11276, infra. These are not literal translations, but only free versions of the originals. The "Quæstio," however, is a close translation of the edition of 1571.

The engraved title has a bust of Phil. II., and a full length portrait of Don Juan, of Austria, and the Duke of Alba, and four of the scenes of persecution. Seventeen plates in the text copied from De Bry. It has a second part, being the abridgment of Gysius' "Netherland Disturbances." The first part was printed, without the preface, as

This is a new edition of the impression of 1610, with the same plates. In the dedication, the inscription to the Directors of the W. I. Co. is left out by neglect. The editor complains that Cloppenburg's edition had supplanted his own.

To this edition was added, with a separate title and paging, the "Beschryvinghe van West-Indien ... door Besenius."

CASAS. Spiegel der Spaensche Tirany gedaen in West Indien, [etc.] ... T' Amsterdam, By Gillis Joosten Saeghman, Boeck-drucker in de Nieuwstraat. 4to, pp. 96. 19 Plates in the Text. 11265

The same as No. 11264, with some alterations, and a title plate of the death of Atabaliba added.

CASAS. Spiegel der Spaense Tyranny in West-Indien, Het Magtig Ryk van Mexcico en het Paerel, Goud en Zilverryk Peru. T' Amsterdam, By Isaac vander Putte, Papier en Boeckverkooper op 't Water in de Lootsman. 4to, pp. 68. 11266

A popular edition, with four woodcuts, and the text of Las Casas and others run into one narrative. Another edition is found with the same imprint, which may be known by the large initial on the third page, and the name Columbus with Co- only on the first line, which, in the other, is in full on the line.

CASAS. Tyrannies & Cruautez des Espagnols, perpetrees es Indes Occidentales, qu'on dit Le Nouveau monde; Brieuement descrites en langue Castillane par l'Euesque Don Frere Bartelemy de Las Casas ou Casaus, Espagnol, de l'ordre de S. Dominique; fidelement traduictes par Jaques de Miggrode: Pour seruir d'exemple & aduertissement aux xvii Prouinces du pais bas. Heureux celuy qui deuient sage En voyant d'autruy le dommage. A Anvers, Chez François de Ravelenghien ioignant le portail Septentrional de l'Eglise nostre Dame. M.D.LXXIX. 12mo, 8 l., pp. 184. J.C.B. 11267

Miggrode, according to Charlevoix, was a Fleming. He says, in his preface, that he had translated one third of the "Relacion" into Flemish, when an edition in that language appeared. He gives Nos. 11227, and 11228, in full, with portions of Nos. 11230, 11233, and 11234.

CASAS. Tyrannies et crvavtez des Espagnols, perpetrees es Indes Occidentales qu'on dit le Nouveau monde: Brieuement descrites en langue Castillane, par l'Euesque Don Frere Bartelemy de las Casas ou Casavs, Espagnol de l'ordre de saint Dominique, fidelement traduictes par Jaques de Miggrode: Heureux celuy qui deuient sage En voyant d'autruy le dommage. A Paris, Par Guillaume Julien, à l'enseigne de l'Amitié, pres le college de Cambray. MDLXXXII. CASAS. Histoire Admirable des horribles inso-lences, Crvavtez, & tyrannies exercees par les Espagnols es Indes Occidentales. Briefuement descrite en langue Castillane par Don F. Barthelemy de Las Casas, Moine & Euesque Espagnol: fidelement traduict par Jaques de Miggrode. [Motto.] Paris: Par Gabriel Cartier. M.D.LXXXII. Sm. 8vo, 8 l., pp. 222. 11269

Tiele says this is a copy of the edition of 1579.

CASAS. Le Miroir | De la Tyrannie Espagnole | Perpetree aux Indes | Occidentales. | On verra icy la cruauté plus | que inhumaine, commise par les | Espagnols, assvi la description de | ces terres, peuples, & leur nature. | Mise en lumière par un | Evesque Bartholome de las Casas, | de l'Ordre de S. Dominic. | Nouvellement refaictte, avec les | Figurs en cuyvre. | tot Amsterdam Gbedruckt by Ian Evertss. Cloppenburg, op't Water | tegen over de Koor-Beurs | in vergulden Bijbel. | 1620. | 4to, 68 leaves. 11270

With the same engraved border and plates as the Dutch edition of 1620. It forms the second tome of a volume, of which the first is entitled, "Le Miroir | De la | Cruelle, & horrible | Tyrannie Espagnole per- | petree au Pays Bas, par le Tyran | Duc de Albe, & aultres | Commandeurs de par le Roy | Philippe le | deuxiesme. | On a adjoint la deuxiesme par- | tie de les Tyrannies commises | aux Indes Occidentales par | les Espagnols. | Nouvellement exorné | avec taille douce en cuyvre. | tot Amsterdam Gbedruckt by Ian Evertss. Cloppenburg, op't Water | tegen over de Koor-Beurs | in vergulden Bijbel." | 1620." | 4to 4 l., 87 l. NA., J.C.B. This tome is the second one in the Dutch edition. Ternaux, No. 278, and Brunet, each quote a French version of this publisher, of 1604, which Tiele says is certainly a mistake. The text is a translation from the Dutch, and not the same as the edition of 1579.

CASAS. Tyrannies | et | Crvavtez | des | Espagnols, | Commises es Indes | Occidentales, qu'on | dit le Nouveau Monde. | Briefvement descrite en | Espagnol, par Dom Frere Barthelemy de | las Casas de l'Ordre de S. Plaignard, | en rue Merciere, au Nom de Iesus. | M.DC.XLII. | Avec Approbation, & Permission.* | Sm. 8vo, 4 l., pp. 299. 11272

Gracsec quotes an edition, Paris, 1635, and says that this is a new translation.

CASAS. La decouverte | des | Indes Occidentales, | par | les Espagnols. | Ecrite par Dom Balthazar de Las- | Casas, Evêque de Chiapa. | Dedié à Monseigneur le Comte | de Toulouse. | A Paris, | Chez André Pralard, rue Saint | Jacques, à l'Occasion.

M.DC.XCVII. | Avec Privilege du Roi. | 12mo, 2 Titles, one of which is Engraved, 4 l., pp. 382, (2). H., J.C.B. 11273

This volume contains a translation of four of the tracts of Las Casas, by the Abbé de Bellegarde, softened in some of the cruel parts, which might have given pain to delicate persons. It appeared again as:

CASAS. Relation | des | Voyages | et des | découvertes | Que les Espagnols ont fait dans les | Indes Occidentales; | Ecrite par Dom B. de Las-Casas, Evê- | que de Chiapa. | Avec la Relation curieuse des Voyages du | Sieur de Montauban, Capitaine des | Filbustiers, en Guinée l'an 1695. | A Amsterdam, | Chez J. Louis de Lorme Libraire sur le | Rockin, à l'enseigne de la Liberté'. | M. DC XCVIII. | 12mo, Frontispiece, 5 l., pp. 402. Plate. BA.

Græme quotes an edition 1692. Trömel calls this a reprint of No 11273, with the addition mentioned in the title.

Translated from the French edition of 1579. Contains Nos. 11227 and 11228, with the "Argumento" and "Prologo" of the original, and also Nos. 11229 and 11234. This last condensed into ten pages. Iodocus a Winghe designed the plates, each of which, occupying three quarters of a page, bears on its lower left corner the number of the page to which it belongs. Clement "Bibliot. Cur.," vi., gives a full account of this edition. Priced, 1826, Payne and Foss, £4 4s.; Roscoe's copy sold for £11 10s. This edition is much sought for, in consequence of the beauty of the first impressions of the plates.

Some copies have two folded plates, one with six small scenes, the other sixteen, all from De Bry. Contains our Nos. 11227, 11228, 11233, 11234 abridged, 11239, 11229. All given as in the French edition of 1697, in a free version, and not separated. No. 11229 appears in two versions on pages 114 and 184. Said, in the preface, to be "translated from a new modern French edition," no doubt the one of 1697, supra. Mr. Helps closes a fine eulogium in the following language: "His career affords, perhaps, a solitary instance of a man who, being neither a conqueror, a discoveror, nor an inventor, has, by the pure force of benevolence, become so notable a figure that large portions of history cannot be written, or at least cannot be understood, without the narrative of his deeds and efforts being made one of the principal threads upon which the history is strung. ... Take away all he said and did, and preached, and wrote, and preserved (for the early historians of the New World owe the records of many of their most valuable facts to him), and the history of the conquest would lose a considerable portion of its most precious material." CASSANI (J.) Glorias del Segundo Siglo de la Compañia de Jesus, dibuxadas en las vidas, y elogias de algunos de sus varones ilustres en virtud, letras, y zelo de las almas, que kan florecido desde el año de 1640, primero del segundo siglo, desde la aprobacion de la religion. Escrites por el P. Joseph Cassani, de la misma Compañia. Tomo I. y VII. En el orden de varones ilustres, obra, que empezó el V. P. Juan Eusebio Nieremberg. Dedicase al Venerable Augusto Soberano Sacramento que debaxo de veinte y quatro milagrosamente incorruptas Formas, sa venera en el Colegio de la misma Compañia de Alcalá, y comunmente se nombra las santissimas formas de Alcalá. Con Licencia. En Madrid: Por Manuel Fernandez. Impresor de Libros. Año de MDCCXXXIV. 3 vols., folio, 17 l., pp. 692; 2 l., pp. 679; 7 l., pp. 727. 11360

This is a continuation of the work of Juan Eusebio Nieremberg, published at Madrid, 1645-1647, in four volumes, folio, entitled "Honor del Gran Patriarcha Incognacio de Loyala," etc. Vols. v. and vi. by Alonso de Andrade, entitled, "Varones Ilustres en santidad y letras de la Campaña de Jesus," were published in 1566-1667; and the work above mentioned, by Cassani, forms the seventh, eighth, and ninth volumes of the same work. The whole consists of the lives of the members of the Society of the Jesuits, who were celebrated for their piety and learning. The latter writer dedicates his work to "the Sovereign August Venerable Sacrament, which was worshipped in the Jesuits' College at Alcalá, under the form of twenty-four consecutive wafers, which had been miraculously preserved there, from the year 1595, as white and fresh as when they were first consecrated." Priced, by Thorpe, £4 14s. 6d.

A book of extreme rarity, respecting which, see the "Bibliotheca Grenvilliana." Figaniere indicates the existence of only one copy. See Silva, II. 284. It relates principally to the East Indies, but contains some particulars of the Portuguese conquests in the New World, and is included in Dr. Robertson's "Catalogue of Authorities." This first and most important part was reprinted with the following title:

CASTAÑEDA. Historia do descobrimento e conquista de Índia pelos Portuguezes, feyta per Fernão Lopez de Castanheda e approuada pelos senhores deputados da sancta Inquisição ... [Colophon:] Foy impresso este primeiro liuro de Historia da India em a muyto nobre e leal cidade de Coimbra per Ioaõ da Barreyra e Joao Alvarez, empressores del rey na mesma uniuersidade. Acabouse aos seys dias del mes de Marco de 1551. 11382

Stevens' "Amer. Bibl.," page 55, quotes what he calls a second edition, as below:

CASTANHEDA. Ho primeiro liuro. ... [Colophon:] Foy impresso este pri-meiro Livro da Historia da India em a muyto nobre & leal cidade de Coim-bra, por Ioaõ da Barreyra impressor del rey na mesma uniuersidade. Acabouse aos vinte dias do mes de Iulho. De | M. D. LIIII. | Folio, pp. ccji. 11383

Reprinted under the supervision of Prof. F. J. dos Sanctos Marrocas, Lisboa no Offic. de Simao Thaddeo Ferreira. 1797. 2 vols., 8vo. The second part has the following title:

CASTANHEDA. Histo-ria do liuro se|gundo do des|cobrimêto & conquista da India pelos|Portugueses. | Feyta per Fernão lopez de|Castanheda. | [Colophon:] ... *Foy impresso este segundo liuro da historia da India em a muyto nobre & leal cidade de Coymbra|por Ioaõ de Barreyra, & Ioaõ aluarez. empressores del rey na|mesma uniuersidade. This was followed by the "Terceiro livro," 1552, which we have not seen. Part iv. and v. have the following title:

CASTANHEDA. Os liuros|quarto & quĩto da historia|do descobrimento & cõquista|da India pelos Portu-gueses. | Com priuilegio Real. | M. D. LIII. | [Colophon:] Acabouse de emprenir a presen|te obra per Joaõ da barreria & Joã aluares em a muyto nobre & sempre|leal cidade de Coimbra. Aos. xv. | dias do mes de Outubro. | de M. D. liij. Folio, 4 l., pp. ccx, i. 11385

The remaining parts we have not seen. They are "Sexto livro," Coimbra por Joao de Barreira, 1554, "Seitimo livro por faltar a subscrição final," 1534, and "Octavo livro," Coimbra, por Joao Barreira, 1561, folio. Silva remarks, "Os livros nomo e decimo nunca sahiram á luz, apesar de feitos e promittidos. É curioso de ver o que a este respeito diz o sr. Felner na noticia preliminar ao tomo 1 das Lendas da India de Gaspar Corrêa, actualmente em via de publicação por ordem da Acad. R. das Sciencias, V. a pag xiii nota (23)." Brunet pronounces a set of 8 vols., folio, "Ouvrage rare," and, following Barbosa, mentions a Spanish translation of Vol. 1., Anvers, 1554, 8vo. This is possibly a mistake, as there was a French version with that imprint, but Silva says that a copy of the Spanish is mentioned in the catalogue of the library of F. J. Maria de Brito. The following is the last edition in Portuguese:

Page 319 numbered 337, gaining eighteen pages, with many other errors in pagination. Partly reprinted in the 4th volume of the "Biblioteca de Autores Españoles," 1850. The author of this very rare and interesting work was a clergyman of Tunja, in the province of New Granada. Munoz says, that "he employed the greatest and best part of his life in singing the various and numerous events of the New World, from its discovery. He commenced by compiling his work in prose, and then reducing it into verse. Castellanos is a writer of considerable merit and utility, as respects the events of his own time; those anterior to it he took from authors, particularly Oviedo, from popular traditions, and, from the fertile field of his imagination, as many fables as suited his plan." See Munoz, "Hist. del Nuevo Mundo," and Ternaux, No. 179. A second edition, "Madrid. 1857," 4to, pp. 567, forms Vol. IV. of the "Biblioteca de autores españoles." The other two parts were not printed, but are preserved in manuscript in some libraries in Spain.

CATESBY (M.) Hortus Britanno Americanus; or, a Curious Collection of Trees and Shrubs, the Produce of the British Colonies in North America; Adapted to the Soil and Climate of England. With Observations on their Constitution, Growth, and Culture: and Directions how they are to be collected, packed up, and secured during their passage. Embellished with Copper Plates neatly engraved. By Mark Catesby, F.R.S. London: John Ryall. M.DCC.LXIII. Imp. 4to, pp. vi, 41. 17 colored Plates. c. 11506

This work was apparently not published until 1767, when new titles were printed and the present cancelled. "This work was prepared by Catesby, and published after his death."—RICH. The new title reads:

CATESBY. Hortus Europæ Americanus: or, a Collection of 85 Curious Trees and Shrubs, The Produce of North America; adapted to the Climates and Soils of Great Britain, Ireland, and most Parts of Europe, &c. ... CATESBY. The Natural History of Carolina, Florida, and the Bahama Islands: Containing the Figures of Birds, Beasts, Fishes, Serpents, Insects and Plants: Particularly the Forest-Trees, Shrubs, and other Plants, not hitherto described, or very incorrectly figured by former Authors. Together with their Descriptions in English and French. To which are added, Observations on the Air, Soil, and Waters ... By ... Mark Catesby ... Revis'd by Mr. Edwards, of the Royal College of Physicians, London. [With appendix and supplement.] London: C. Marsh; T. Wilcox; B. Stichall. 1754. 2 vols., folio, Map, Title, 1 l., pp. vii, 100; 1 l., pp. 100; Appendix, pp. 20, 1 l; Supplement, pp. xlv, 4 l. 220 Plates. H. 11508

This is the title of the second edition. Jefferson remarks: "The drawings are better as to form and attitude than coloring, which is generally too high." The first edition was published in numbers, between 1731 and 1748, with plates etched by the author from his own drawings, and colored under his inspection; and this first edition is to be preferred for the beauty of the plates. "Catesby, after having lived in Virginia, from 1712 to 1719, principally engaged in the study of its natural history, returned to England, when he was induced by Dr. Sherard and others, to undertake another voyage to America, for the express purpose of collecting and describing its natural productions. The fruit of his voyage was this 'Natural History of Carolina.'" "It does great honor to him and his native country, and is perhaps the most curious and elegant performance of its kind that has anywhere appeared in Europe." — PETER COLLINSON. See also Laurens' "Correspondence," p. 187, where it is said to be the best Natural History of this country. The third edition has the following title:

CATESBY. The Natural History of Carolina, Florida, and the Bahama Islands: containing the Figures of Birds, Beasts, Fishes, Serpents, Insects, and Plants: Particularly, those not hitherto described, or incorrectly figured by former Authors, with their Descriptions in English and French. To which is prefixed, A new and Correct Map of the Countries, with Observations on their Natural State, Inhabitants, and Productions. By the late Mark Catesby, F.R.S. Revised by Mr. Edwards To the whole is now added a Linnæan Index of the Animals and Plants. ... London: Benjamin White. MDCCLXXI. 2 vols., folio, 2 l., pp. (2), vii, 120, (i), 120 Plates; 2 l., pp. (2), 100, xlv, (6). 100 Plates. BA., C., P. 11509

A very curious vignette follows plate 100 in Vol. II. In some copies the pages xlv are bound with the first volume.

CATLIN (G.) An Account of an Annual Religious Ceremony Practised by the Mandan Tribe of North American Indians. By George Catlin. London. 1865. 4to, pp. 67.

"A very curious and interesting little monograph, of which only fifty copies have been privately printed and distributed in a very select circle. ... Of this bull dance, all we can say is, that it was an attempt to emblemize the mode of buffalo and human propagation."—TRÜBNER. The notice of this book in Trübner's "Record" elicited from Mr. Catlin a very vigorous note, which concludes, as follows: "The pamphlet you speak of as 'printed privately for a very select circle,' is a gross and mangled extract from my account of the Mandan Religious Ceremony, printed and circulated without my permission or knowledge; of which I have demanded the surrender of every copy printed; and for any reprint or circulation of the same I will prosecute. September 22nd, 1865. GEO. CATLIN." It may safely be inferred that this is a rare tract.

Some copies form the imprint, "London: Wiley and Putnam," others, London: Published by the Author 1841. The plates to this work were afterwards sold to Mr. H. G. Bohn, who issued the work with the following title:

CATLIN. Illustrations of the Manners, Customs, and Condition of the North American Indians: in a Series of Letters and Notes written during Eight Years of Travel and Adventure among the Wildest and most Remarkable Tribes now Existing. With Three Hundred and Sixty Engravings from the Author's Original Paintings. By Geo. Catlin. Seventh Edition. London: Henry G. Bohn. MDCCCLVIII. 2 vols., imp. 8vo, pp. viii, 264; viii, 266. 360 Plates. H. + Eighth Edition. [Ibid.] 1857. + Ninth Edition. [Ibid.] 1857. + Tenth Edition. [Ibid.] 1866.

Mr. Bohn had twelve or more copies colored after the fancy of the artist who did the work, but tolerably well done. Such copies are worth $60 a set. One of the most original, authentic, and popular works on the subject. Humboldt characterizes the author as "one of the most admirable observers of manners who ever lived among the aborigines of America." "These plates, or rather etchings, although merely outlines, are well executed, and appear to be very faithful representations of the objects and scenes described in the book. The author was born at Wyoming about the beginning of the present century ('some thirty or forty years since,' he says, in his first letter.) A considerable part of these letters were published in the New York papers, as early as the years 1832 and 1833. His paintings, from which the plates were taken, and a collection of Indian manufactures, were exhibited for many years in Piccadilly, London."—

Rich. These paintings are now in the gallery of the New York Historical Society. The work received ample notice at the hands of the reviewers. The following may be consulted: "N. Am. Rev.," LIV. 283, "Lit. and Theol. Rev.," II. 96, "Dublin Univ. Mag.," XIX. 371, "Quarterly Rev.," LXV. 384, "Ed. Rev.," LXXIV. 221, "West. Rev.," XXXVII. 122, "South. Lit. Mess.," XI. 202, and "N. Y. Rev.," X. 419. A very inferior edition of the work was published at Philadelphia, with the following title:

CATLIN. Letters and Notes [as in No. 11536]. ... With One hundred and fifty illustrations, on steel and wood. Philadelphia: Willis P. Hazard. 1857. 2 vols., 8vo, pp. 792.

The plates to this edition are very inferior woodcuts.

Forms a piece in Commelin's "Begin ende Voortgang," first edition, Vol. 1. A literal reprint of No. 11606, of 1617. A Dutch version is included in Van der Aa's collection, Vol. xx. of the 8vo edition, and Vol. v. of the folio. An English edition is included in Vol. iv. of the new edition of Hakluyt, in Harris' collection of voyages, Vol. 1., and Kerr's collection, Vol. x. A Latin version forms Part 8 of Bry's "Grands Voyages." See our Vol. III., page 40. Tiele proves that Hakluyt furnished to Van Meteron, then consul in London for the Netherlands, the narrative as it is given in the Dutch version of 1598. This translation was made by Van Meteron himself. The full English original account did not appear till two years later. Tiele says that the Latin version in the eight part of De Bry, of 1599, is faulty and incomplete. The sixth part of Hulsius' collection contains an abridged version of Cavendish and Drake's voyages. See Tiele, pp. 294-301.

Mr. Chabert's work is highly praised by the commission appointed by the French Academy of Science to examine it, and is recommended as a model to future navigators. It is divided into two parts: the first containing an account of the author's voyage from Brest to Louisbourg, and his four expeditions to the neighboring coasts and islands; the second part containing the astronomical observations at large. "It may be important as a scientific work, but can by no means be recommended to those who read for amusement." — Ricu, i. 103, 104. Thomas Chalkley, a Quaker preacher, came to America in the year 1700, and settled at Philadelphia. He travelled and preached in all the British Colonies from New England to North Carolina. He also visited the West India Islands, and the Bermudas. "Some of the New England priests," he says, "were so bitter against Friends, that, instead of being humbled, under the mighty hand of God upon them in suffering the Indians to destroy them, they express'd their enmity against the poor Quakers. In a sermon preached by one of their priests, he divided it into three heads, viz.: First. That the Judgments of God were upon them, in letting loose the Savage Indians upon them. Secondly. In that he withheld the fruits of the earth from them. Thirdly. That the Quakers prevailed and were suffered to increase so much among them which was worse than the Indians destroying of them." In some copies the edition is not stated. Reprinted with additions, as below:

CHALMERS. [An Introduction to the History of the Revolt of the Colonies. London: Printed by Baker and Galabin. 1782.] 8vo, pp. 496. 11761

In the sale of Mr. Chalmers' library, Mr. Evans says, that of this most rare work not more than a dozen copies are extant. A manuscript note, by Mr. Tutet, states that after this portion of the book was printed, "the author suppressed it: whether owing to the separation of the Colonies which happened just at the season for publication, viz., December, 1782, or the prior cause in April antecedent, the dismissal of a Tory administration, is only known to the author, who is a Scotchman. This was to have made two volumes, the first only was finished, but never published. A few copies only were preserved." See also Rich, i. 301, and Stevens' Nuggets, No. 507, where a copy is priced at £5 5s. The entire work, completed from Chalmers' autograph manuscript, was printed in Boston, in 1845, as below. The copy from which it is printed is in the Library of Harvard College.

The second part was never published. "Chalmers was a strenuous supporter of the right of the mother country to tax the colonies, and, throughout his narrative, every fact which would admit of it was studiously applied to support this principle. ... Valuable for the distinctness of its details, the authenticity of its documents, and the elegant manner in which it is written." So much as relates to Carolina is reprinted in Carroll's Coll., II. 273-345. See also "Mass. Hist. Coll.," Vol. xxxiv; M. R., LXXI. 464; LXXIII. 15; N. A. R., LX., Smyth's Lectures; Rich., I. 282.

BA., C., H., N. 11839

The best edition. Stevens' Nuggets, No. 511, describes a copy which contains the objectionable passage on page 27, which caused the two leaves, Dij and Diiij, to be cancelled and reprinted. We usually find that the first paragraph on page 27 ends with the words "telles descouertes," but in the original issue it reads, "telles descouertes; ce que n'ont pas les grands hommes d'estat, qui scauent mieux manier et conduire le gouvernement et l'administration d'un Royaume, que celle de la nauigation, des expeditions d'outres mer, et des pays lointains, pour ne l'auoir iamais pratique." Mr. Tross has reproduced the two maps in admirable facsimile. These often take the place of the original map. There are at least three variations in the imprint of this edition; one is A Paris | Chez Pierre | Le-Mvr, dans la grand Salle | du Palais. | Another is, Paris: Louis Sevestre; they are not alike in other respects. Collet's has a map smaller and entirely different from the others, "faict par le Sieur de Champlain suivant les memoires de P. du Val-en l'Isle du Palais." It has the two leaves 29-30, without the passage supposed to refer to Richelieu, and, what is remarkable, the two cancelled leaves are inserted in another part of the volume. In Sevestre and Le Mvr's imprint the map is "Faict l'an 1632 par le Sieur de Champlain," and is larger than in Collet's.

CHAMPLAIN. [Title as in No. 11839.] Paris: chez Claude Collet au mont Saint Hilaire près les Puits. | M.DC.XL. | Avec Priuilege du Roy. | 11840

This is the same work, with a new title-page only. Mr. Lenox, to whom I am indebted for most of the notes to Champlain, suggests that this edition probably consists of the rejected copies of the edition of 1632, because the volume has the cancelled leaves only, cut through with some sharp instrument. The titles of 1, 2, and 3 (Collet, Le Mvr, and Sevestre) are alike, except in the imprints (1640), the length of the lines and the spelling vary from 1, 2, and 3.

CHARLEVOIX. Histoire et description generale de la Nouvelle France, avec le Journal Historique d'un Voyage fait par ordre du Roi dans l'Amerique Septentrionale. Par le P. De Charlevoix, de la Compagnie de Jesus. ... A Paris, chez Pierre-François Giffart, rue Saint Jacques à Sainte Theres. M.DCC.XLIV. 3 vols., 4to. + A Paris, Chez Nyon Fils, Libraire, Quai des Augustins, à l'Occasion. M.DCC.XLIV. 3 vols., 4to. + A Paris, Chez la Veuve Ganeau, Libraire, rue S. Jacques, près la rue du Plâtre, aux Armes de Dombes. M. DCC. XLIV. Avec approbation et privilege du Roi. 3 vols., 4to, Half-Title, Title, pp. (4), viij, lxj, (3), ix-xxvj, 664. 10 Maps, 2 Vignettes. || Vol. II. Half-Title, Title, pp. xv, (1), 582. 8 Maps. Description des plantes principales pp. 56. 44 Plates of Plants. || Vol. III. Journal d'un Voyage fait par ordre du Roi dans l'Amerique Septentrionale; Addressé a Madame la Duchesse De Lesdiguières. ... A Paris: Veuve Ganeau. M.DCC.XLIV. 4to, Half-Title, Title, pp. xix, xiv, 543. 10 Maps, and Vignette. H. 12135

The arrangement varies in some copies, according to the whim of the binder. I have seen a copy in which Vol. II. has, prefixed to the regular order of the history, two papers, "Plantes de l'Amerique Sept.," pp. 56, and 22 plates (the latter arranged to suit either this or the 12mo edition, described infra), and "Projet d'un corps d'histoire du Nouveau Monde," pp. lxi, (iii), followed by the "Table des Sommaires," Tome II., pp. xv, (1), and the continuation of the text of Vol. I., pp. 582; vignette on title, and one in text, 8 maps. Tross describes a copy of Giffart's edition on fine paper. In the Nuggets, No. 518, another edition is described, "A Paris: Chez Rolin Fils, Libraire. Quai des Augustins MDCCLXIV." Vol. I., 4 l., pp. xxvi, 644, 10 maps; II. 2 l., pp. lxj, table, 1, permission, 1 l., table, pp. xv, "Fautes," 1, 582, 8 maps, "Description des Plantes Principales de l'Amerique Septentrionale," 56, 22 plates; III., 19 l., pp. 543, 10 maps. In Mr. Brown's catalogue a copy is described, the collation of which seems to differ from this. Dr. Shea has a copy in which Rolin's name is spelt Rollin, in Vol. III. It is evident that the arrangement of the preliminary and supplemental matter is often changed by the binder; but our collation of Ganeau's edition describes a perfect copy, and any set which does not include the pages lxj (3) in one or other of the volumes, is imperfect. The work was reprinted as follows:

CHARLEVOIX. Histoire et description generale de la Nouvelle France, avec le journal historique d'un Voyage ... dans l'Amérique Septentrionale. Par le P. De Charlevoix. ... Paris: Pierre-François Giffart. M DCC XLIV. 6 vols., 12mo, Title, pp. (4), viii, 454; Title, 501; Title, 465; Title, 388; Title, xxviii, 456; Title, 434, (4). 28 Maps. H. 12136

There are the same variations on the imprint in this as in the quarto edition. I have seen the work described with the imprint, "Paris: Nyon. M DCC XLIV," "Paris: Ganeau. M DCC XLIV," "Paris: Didot. M DCC XLIX," and "Paris: Rolin fils. M DCC XLIX." They are all the same edition, and, it may be presumed, that the work was a joint-stock speculation, each subscriber having his own name on the title of his own copies. Vols. v. and vi. are entitled, "Journal historique d'un Voyage." The plates to Didot's edition are usually bound up in a separate volume. Dr. J. G. Shea informs us that the index to this edition is very much abridged. "This is one of the most important works there is relating to Canada. It contains not only what the author saw himself, but he has collected from the best authorities, and with great judgment."—RICH, 1. "De toutes des relations de Canada, c'est dans celle-ci, qu'on peut s'instruire le mieux sur les nombreuses peuplades qui y étaient répandues et dont quelques-unes subsistent encore."—BOUCHKA. The laborious accuracy with which this work was executed may be estimated by the fact that the maps, dated 1743, are marked with the latest discoveries, in 1742, in the extreme north of America. See also Tuckerman's "America and her Commentators," p. 49; N. A. R., xxx. 58; Faribault, pp. 28-39; Murray's "America;" and "Biog. Universelle."

CHARLEVOIX. History and General Description of New France. By the Rev. P. F. X. de Charlevoix, s.j. Translated, with Notes, by John Gilmary Shea. In Six Volumes. New York: John Gilmary Shea. 1866-70. 4 vols., 8vo, 2 l., pp. 286, (1); 3 l., pp. 284, (1); 2 l., pp. v, 11-312, (1); 1 l., pp. 308, (1). 9 Portraits, 10 Maps, and 4 Plates. BA., c. 12137

Vols. v. and vi. are in press. Twenty-five copies are printed on large paper, in 4to. This is the first translation into English of Charlevoix's celebrated and important work. Dr. Shea has added notes, corrected references, and improved the bibliography, at the same time retaining, in all its originality, Charlevoix's text.

Translated from the French of P. de Charlevoix.

... London: R. and J. Dodsley. M DCC LXI. 2 vols., 8vo, pp. viii, 382; viii, 380, (22). Map. BA., C., H. 12139

"This translation betrays, by numerous Scotticisms and misrepresentations, the hand of a north Briton, too little acquainted with the French and English languages to read or write either with propriety. — M. R., xxiii. 417.

CHARLEVOIX. Letters to the Dutchess of Lesdiguières; Giving an Account of a Voyage to Canada, and Travels through that vast Country, and Louisiana, to the Gulf of Mexico. Undertaken By Order of the present King of France, By Father Charlevoix. Being a more full and accurate Description of Canada, and the neighbouring Countries, than has been before published; the Character of every Nation or Tribe in that vast Tract being given; their Religion, Customs, Manners, Traditions, Government, Languages, and Towns; the Trade carried on with them, and at what Places; the Posts or Forts, and Settlements, established by the French; the great Lakes, Water-Falls, and Rivers with the Manner of navigating them; the Mines, Fisheries, Plants, and Animals of these Countries. With Reflections on the Mistakes the French have committed in carrying on their Trade and Settlements; and the most proper method of proceeding pointed out. Including also an Account of the Author's Shipwreck in the Channel of Bahama, and Return in a Boat to the Mississippi, along the Coast of the Gulf of Mexico, with his Voyage from thence to St. Domingo, and back to France. London: R. Goadby, and R. Baldwin. 1763. 8vo, pp. xiv, (2), 384. Map. BA., C. 12140

Some copies have the date of 1764. See M. R., xxx. 253, and French's "Louisiana," Vol. iii.

CHARLEVOIX. La vie de la Mere Marie de l'Incarnation, Institutrice et premiere Supérieure des Ursulines de la Nouvelle France. Paris: Ant. Claude Briasson. 1724. 8vo. + Paris. 1725. 4to. + Paris: P. G. Le Mercier. 1735. 8vo, pp. xxx, 412, 2 l. Portrait. 12141

In some copies of the edition of 1724, Louis Ant. Thomelin appears as the publisher, but the prologue in all is to Briasson. "Sons fils, D. Claude Martin, fit imprimer sa vie à Paris, en 1677. Le P. Charlevoix publia la sienne en 1724, in-8. Une édition de format in-4° parut l'année suivante. L'édition portant la date de 1735 n'est pas citée. Ce doit être certainement la même que celle de 1724, dont on aura changé le titre." — Leclerc.

"This book is the relation of the adventures of five or six hundred Frenchmen, who left France in 1831, under the patronage of M. Lainé de Villéveque, to found a colony in Mexico. M. Charpenne is at once the Ulysses and the Homer of this unfortunate epopee, which resulted only in the most miserable deceptions. He set out in the early part of 1831, and returned at the end of the same year, his stomach ruined, his feet and legs swelled, and poorer than before. This book contains interesting details on little known parts of Mexico."—QUÉBARD.

"This discourse is attributed to the Marquis de Chastellux, and is, according to Laharpe, the best of his works; well conceived, tolerably well written, full of luminous conclusions, and of useful truths. He decides the questions in favor of the 'advantages.' " — Biog. Univ.

CHASTELLUX. Voyage de Newport a Philadelphie, Albany, etc. Newport, R. I.: De l'imprimerie Royale de l'Escadre. 1781. 4to, pp. 188. S. 12225

"The Marquis de Chastellux caused twenty-four copies of this journal to be printed at a press on board one of the ships of the French squadron, at Newport. It consists only of that part which forms the first volume of the edition of Paris of 1785, comprising his travels in the winter of 1780-81, and was printed, he says, to avoid the trouble of making manuscript copies for his friends in Europe." — Rich, 1. 300.

CHASTELLUX. Voyage de Mr. Le Chevalier de Chastellux en Amérique. [n. p.] 1785. 8vo, pp. 228. M. 12226

The vignette on title is a woodcut of a stone slab, with a covered crown in flowers above, and a garden basket reversed below. This appears to be the surreptitious edition of the Marquis de Chastellux's travels, printed at Cassel, which is referred to in the Paris edition of 1786. It consists of extracts taken at random from his manuscript journals, without any connection, which were first published in a periodical journal at Gotha.

The translator was J. Kent. "This performance of the Marquis de Chastellux is a heterogeneous and multifarious account of everything that caught the lively traveller's eager eye and minute attention; and, as nothing escaped his active investigation, his work abounds not only with observations which are of importance, but with details of even the most trifling incidents that bad roads, inconvenient inns, and distracted times usually afford. The translator is, in political principles, a violent American, and, as such, he gives to the national reputation of poor old England many a stab, and to that of her troops no quarter." — Monthly Review.

"Atala is an episode of the "Génie du christianisme" (which first appeared about April, 1802, and of which five editions were published within a year). It had such a prodigious success that it was translated into almost all the languages of Europe [I have not found any version in the Scandinavian or Slavonic languages]; yet its style has given occasion to very biting critiques, nearly all of which the author has reprinted in the collected edition of his works." — QUÉRAUD.

[CHAUNCY.] A Letter to a Friend; Giving a concise, but just Account, according to the Advices hitherto received, of the Ohio-Defeat; And Pointing out also the many good Ends, this inglorious Event is naturally adapted to promote: Or, shewing wherein it is fitted to advance the Interest of all the American British Colonies. To which is added, some general Account of the New-England Forces, with what they have already done, counter-balancing the above loss. Boston: Edes & Gill. 1755.

Signed T. W., Boston, Aug. 25, 1755. This tract has reference to the defeat of the British (Colonial) forces under Col. George Washington in Ohio. The writer attributes the ill success to the commanding officer. He complains, too, that the southern colonies did not comprehend the danger to which they were exposed by the union of the French and Indians. The defeat he calls "a terrible evil! New England in general, and Massachusetts province in special, are the chief sources that may be relied on for a supply of effective men to carry into execution any future designs against the French."

[CHAUNCY.] A Letter to a Friend, giving a Concise, but Just representation of the Hardships and Sufferings the Town of Boston is exposed to, and must undergo, in consequence of the late Act of the British Parliament; which, by shutting up its Port, has put a fatal bar in the way of that commercial business on which it depended for its support. Shewing, at the same time, wherein this Edict, however unintended, is powerfully adapted to promote the Interest of all the American Colonies, and, even of Boston itself, in the end. By T. W. A Bostonian. Boston, N. E.: Greenleaf's Printing Office. M,DCC,LXXIV. 8vo, pp. 35. 12321

CHAUNCY. A Letter To the Reverend Mr. George Whitefield, Vindicating certain Passages he has excepted against, in a late Book entitled, Seasonable Thoughts on the State of Religion in New-England; and shewing that he has neither sufficiently defended himself, nor retracted his past Misconduct. CHECKLEY. The Speech of Mr. John Checkley upon his Tryal, at Boston in New-England, for publishing The Short and Easy Method with the Deists: To which was added, A Discourse concerning Episcopacy, in Defence of Christianity, and the Church of England, against the Deists and Dissenters. To which is added the Jury's Verdict; His Plea in Arrest of Judgment; and the Sentence of the Court. London: J. Wilford. 1730. 8vo, Title, 1 l., pp. 40. H. 12365

Checkley reprinted and sold in Boston, Leslie's well-known work, entitled "A Short and Easy Method with Deists," first published in London in 1699; to which he prefixed "A Discourse concerning Episcopacy, in Defence of Christianity and the Church of England, against the Deists and Dissenters," and in which he endeavors to show that Dissenters, not being Episcopally ordained, are no ministry. Having used severe terms towards the Dissenters in New England, he gave great offence, and was, in consequence, prosecuted at the Inferior Court, in 1724, for publishing "a false and scandalous label." Being convicted, he appealed to the Superior Court. In his "Plea in arrest of Judgment," he says, in conclusion, "Be that as it will, the Dissenters are affirmed to be no Ministers, to be Scismatics, and excommunicated by the Canons of the Church of England, which are part of the law of the land; and, therefore, to say the same things of them, I humbly hope shall not be deemed a libel." The court, however, found Checkley guilty, and sentenced him to pay a fine of fifty pounds. This speech is usually found bound up with [Leslie], see infra, and is followed by "A Discourse Shewing who is a True Preacher of the Church of Christ," pp. 16, and "A Specimen of a True Dissenting Catechism," 11; in the Nuggets, Nos. 536 and 537, they are put down as separate works; and the "Specimen" is reprinted with a long and interesting note. They were all reprinted, "Windsor, Vt. 1812," 12mo; and the "Speech" only with an introduction by Rev. E. H. Gillett, D.D., Harlem, N. Y. Privately printed by H. B. Dawson, at Morrisania, N.
